Red Troops Capture Peiping General

Ancient Capital Falling

Peace Rumors Run Rampant

NANKING — (UP) —A message to the Commercial bank here reported that communist forces entered Peiping at 5:30 p. m. (3:30 a.m. EST) today. The Peiping message also said communists had captured Gen. Fu Tso-Yi, Nationalist commander in north China.

The report was not confirmed officially. A government spokesman, Gen. Weng-Yi, denied that communist troops had entered Peiping.

He also denied that Gen. Fu has been captured.

The Nanking telegraph office still was maintaining radio contact with its branch in Peiping.

Hu Shih, president of the National university at Peiping, arrived in Nanking aboard a special Chinese air force plane, and reported that communist forces had entered the suburbs of the ancient capital.

He said, however, that they were not yet in sufficient strength to attempt o complete the capture of the city. He said FU still was in Peiping.

Hu Shih added that the situation was "serious," but somewhat less serious than reports here had indicated.

Hu Shih left Peiping today aboard the special plane which had been sent for him by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek. He reported that Nationalist troops at the time he left still held two airfields at Peiping, one south and one west of the city.

ONE AIRFIELD LEFT

He said the western airfield had been evacuated because it was under communist gunfire, but the field to the south still was operating. His plane took off from that field.

The loss of Peiping to the communists has been regarded as a foregone conclusion since the Nationalist withdrawal from Manchuria, which permitted communist leaders to send a horde of troops into north China.

The city has been by-passed by the communists in their surge southward to the approaches of Nanking, capital of modern China.

But its capture will have considerable prestige value for the communists. Not only is it the second largest city in China, but it also has considerable significance historically for the average Chinese.

Capture of the city would mean virtual control of all north China for the communists, and would release additional large forces to join in the battle for Nanking.

Probe ECA Fund Racket

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — A congressional investigation was proposed today into charges that Britain, Belgium and Holland have used Marshall plan supplies to profiteer on the American market.

The alleged practice appeared certain to bring an angry echo when Congress is asked to vote additional billions for European recovery.

Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R., Ia., said he thinks the joint "watchdog" committee on foreign aid should go into the matter thoroughly. And he suggested that the Economic Cooperation administration be required to file a full report with the foreign relations committee before that group considers extension of the Marshall plan for another year.

ECA reported the alleged profiteering yesterday aand promised to make a "drastic" reduction in allocations to countries misusing recovery supplies.

WAA Slicing Ohio Regional Payroll

CINCINNATI — (INS) — The War Assets Administration planned today to drop 270 employes from its Cincinnati regional payroll because of reduced inventories.

Regional Director Harry E. Ritter said the lay-offs would be effective Dec. 31, cutting the force to 811 employes. All will be employed in Cincinnati except for 150 assigned to field work.

Locomotives Aid Injured War Veterans

CHILLICOTHE — (AP) — Two railroad locomotives have been huffing and puffing on the siding at the Veterans Administration hospital for two days now—helping keep patients warm, clean and fed.

Four of seven hospital boilers are being replaced, leaving three to handle hospital needs. One of the three broke down two days ago.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad rented out two locomotives as mobile power plants for $1 a day a locomotive.

Fog, Rain Plague Motorists

Highways Flooded In Southern Ohio

Mansfield and the rest of Ohio were sealed in by a dense fog and soaked by near-torrential rains last night and today.

Mansfielders groped to work this morning. A few minor mishaps were reported, but no one was injured in accidents attributed to the fog.

Police said a truck careened off Lexington avenue inside the city limits and went into a ditch early today.

Visibility was down to less than 100 feet during the early morning. Around 8 a. m. rain started to fall and partially dissipated the "pea soup."

Rainfall during the 24-hour period ended at 7:30 a. m. today totaled almost a half inch.

ROADS FLOODED

In other parts of the state several highways were closed to traffic today because of high water and two towns were flooded following the heavy rains.

The state highway department reported the following roads closed due to high water: U. S. 50, Athens to Albany; 50 alternate at Amesville, 35 at Junction of 160 in Gallia county and highways in vicinity of Medina slippery due to rain and sleet.

A 12-hour rain caused flash floods at Rutland and Thomas Fork, near Pomeroy. Several stores and homes were evacuated but no casualties were reported and damage was light.

Forecaster C. G. Andrus said more rain, although mostly showers, is falling over the state and will continue through the day, aggravating conditions in some localities.

Temperatures were to rise above the 50-mark in the north half of the state with readings well above 60 degrees expected in the lower portions.

Andrus said colder weather is expected about Friday when a cold air mass moving in from the northwest reaches the state. He added that some fog may develop in northern portions of Ohio tonight.

Cincinnati had an unusually heavy rainfall in the 24-hour period ending this morning, recording 2.81 inches. Columbus had 1.01 while Chesapeake recorded 1.54.

School Strife Peace Sought

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Members of warring factions in suburban Twinsburg's smouldering school dispute will meet again tonight in an effort to further strengthen peace moves finally under way.

Guiding committees of both the newly-formed Twinsburg Citizens League, which supports the school board, and the real estate owners association, a severe critic of the board, met for an hour last night for the first time to consider a compromise proposal.

The proposal, submitted by Lynn B. Ford, a Twinsburg alumnus and volunteer peacemaker, is aimed at getting schools reopened as soon as possible and would temporarily postpone settlement of the present dispute.

GETS 7 MORE YEARS

SPRINGFIELD, MO., — (AP) —Charles Lee McIntosh, 24, of Dayton, O., who used an airplane last year to flee prison, was sentenced yesterday to serve an additional seven years in a federal penitentiary.

Let Dice Loser Sue, Chief Says

Asks Complaints Made In Person

Police Chief Jesse Schwab said today that the woman who wrote the News-Journal claiming her husband lost badly needed money in an illegal crap game should contact him personally to lodge her complaint.

"There is a law covering this situation," he explained. "If she were to file an affidavit and prove in court that her husband lost money in a gambling game, she could recover under the law.

"And I would appreciate it if persons who claim they are injured in matters of this type, would come to me personally to lodge their complaints," the chief added.

In the letter received yesterday by the N-J and forwarded to Chief Schwab, the person who signed the note "Disgusted Wife," wrote that "it's too bad they can't close those guys (the gamblers) for keeps. This isn't the first time we've been hungry. . . ."

She added sarcastically, "Of course the children (four of them) are willing to do without clothes they badly need and less for Christmas to help the crap owners' wives to wear fur coats."

At present, all types of gambling operations forbidden by law are in full swing in Mansfield without any police interference. Mayor Roy W. Vaughn continues his "hands off" policy.

"I can't say now what is going to be done about the situation," Chief Schwab said today.

Air Pickup Rescues Six

Crash Survivors In Novel Escape

FAIRBANKS, ALASKA—(AP—Six occupants of a crash-landed C-47 transport were snatched from a frozen river yesterday in a glider pickup rescue.

The pilot of the C-54, which dropped and picked up the glider, described the maneuver as extremely hazardous. The pilot, Lt. Col. Eugene Strouse, explained the curvature of the river, trees and terrain afforded less than a 500-yard straight-away run at 10 feet altitude for the snatch.

The C-47 made a belly landing on the Yukon territory in 20-below-zero weather. The pilot said a dwindling gas supply forced him to land. Search craft located the plane and the C-54 towing a glider took off on the rescue mission. On arrival at the crash scene, the glider was cut loose and its pilot circled to a landing within 75 yards of the transport.

A snatch frame was erected across the river. The C-54 made four passes before contact was made and the glider with seven men aboard was jerked into the air. Ladd field officials said the rescue was the first of its kind in the arctic.

VOTE CHRISTMAS BONUS

CHILLICOTHE — (INS) — A Christmas bonus of $50 to each full-time Chillicothe city employe and of $25 to each part-time employe has been voted by the city council.

FIRST PHOTOS OF COSTA RICAN 'INVASION'—First pictures of the reported invasion of Costa Rica are received as the Costa Rican government at San Jose announces that its forces have routed rebel troops in a battle between Liberia and La Cruz. Top photo is of a plane load of rifles and soldiers being rushed to the front from San Jose. In lower photo President Jose Figures (right, wearing hat) gets first-hand information at the front from soldier who reported capture of La Cruz by unknown invaders. Brighten a Christmas

City Opens Heart To Less Fortunate

With Christmas just 10 days away, Mansfielders are being very generous in their offers to "Brighten-a-Christmas" for less fortunate families.

Many of the city's aged couples have been "adopted" for the day. An aged widow, all alone in the world, will have Christmas dinner with a local family who made her acquaintance through a story in last Friday's News-Journal. Other elderly men and women will be receiving small gifts from unknown friends.

Four small children and the widow of a recent accident victim will receive gifts of new clothing from a generous Mansfield couple.

A 14-year-old girl whose parents are dead and who lives in a foster home has been adopted by a kind-hearted Mansfield woman.

Another family of parents of three small children will find this year's Christmas much brighter than in the past, thanks to a cash gift from a Mansfield woman.

However, there are still a large number of youngsters and adults who will find Santa Claus has forgotten them on Dec. 25.

The local couple with the 12-year-old daughter who is hospitalized, and two younger children, are still hoping to spend Christmas Day together, that is, if they can find furnished rooms or a small apartment in which to move when they are evicted from their present residence on Monday. They are not in need of financial assistance. Their only requirement for a merry Christmas is a home in which to observe the day together.

A factory worker who supports five school-age children as well as two elderly relatives on an inadequate salary is unable to provide sufficient warm clothing for his children.

An aged couple, the man blind, have not been adopted for a Christmas basket as yet.

Further information on any of the above-mentioned families may be obtained by calling Mrs. Margaret Mattox at The News-Journal office, 4251-6, daily, except Sundays, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Anyone wishing to donate money with which to purchase necessities for a needy family should make checks payable to Paul M Eliot, president of the Farmers' Savings and Trust company, who is serving as treasurer of the Brighten-A-Christmas program, being co-sponsored this year by The News-Journal and the Salvation Army.

Santa Comes Early for Sunshine School Pupils

Rotarians Share Kiddies' Joy At Party

By NITA BRANSON

Rotarians left the Mansfield-Leland hotel yesterday noon after their annual Christmas party, wondering if they or the Sunshine school children had had the most fun. The handicapped children were guests at the party.

It was a hard question to answer. For Rotary club members it meant the pleasure of giving; for the children the age-old delight of getting just what they had asked for.

The gift-giving had an extra heart-warming tinge for Rotarians because most of the Sunshine children are denied the joy of romping as healthy, husky children. For them fun must be in the heart rather than in stout little legs and arms.

First there was an invocation by Rev. Samuel U. J. Peard, rector of the Grace Episcopal church. Then there was luncheon, with a special table for the 13 children. On the table were big cellophane wrapped packages of nuts and candy, the gift of former Rotarian Edward Sutter.

Prior to luncheon and during the lunch period, members of the Senior high school orchestra played Christmas music, led by J. Merton Holcombe, with Jean Robinson as soloist singing "White Christmas."

Luncheon over, W. C. Mead, general chairman of the party, presented Miss Gladys Fox, teacher at Sunshine school. She introduced William Muntan, who graduated from Sunshine school last year and is now attending John Simpson junior high.

Scandal Figure Succumbs

Daugherty Dies At 86

WASHINGTON C. H.—(AP)—Mal S. Daugherty, the Washington C. H. banker who figured in the Teapot Dome scandal, died last night. He was 86.

The aged banker and one-time Fayette county Republican party leader had been seriously ill for several weeks. He suffered a paralytic stroke about eight weeks ago. He had been a patient at a rest home near this southeastern Ohio town.

He was the brother of Harry M. Daugherty, U. S. attorney general in the administration of President Warren G. Harding.

Daugherty was subpoenaed to appear before the Senate investigating committee in the Teapot Dome scandal, but flatly refused to make the trip to Washington.

The Senate held Daugherty in contempt and sent its sergeant at arms to Washington Court House to arrest Daugherty. He fled to Cincinnati, where he obtained a court order prohibiting the Senate from making good its subpoena.

Later, the committee, including Senators Wheeler of Montana and Brookhart of Iowa, held a session at a Washington Court House hotel.

In 1930, Daugherty, as president of the Ohio State Bank of Washington Court House, was indicted on 58 counts charging embezzlement, misapplication of funds and falsification of the bank's condition.

He was convicted in Common Pleas court, but an appeals court remanded the case back to Common Pleas court for a new trial. No new trial ever was held.

At one time, Daugherty was president of two banks and the unquestioned political leader of this county. After the Teapot Dome affair and the collapse of his banks and political leadership, Daughtrey suffered a corresponding social decline.

The Ohio State Bank failed as a result of the Daugherty scandal and eventually paid off 28 cents on the dollar. The loss to this community of 10,000 persons was estimated at $1,000,000.

In later years Mal S. Daugherty, once the friend of persons in high places, walked alone on the streets of Washington Court House. It was readily apparent, even to strangers, that some sort of social ostracism was operating. Person after person passed the old man without speaking.

Reveal New Spy Suspect

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A man suspected of stealing and handing over to Russia pre-war army secrets of "great military significance" may be haled before the congressional spy hearings later this week.

The secrets are supposed to have come out of the Aberdeen proving ground on Chesapeake bay north of Baltimore. There was no immediate hint as to their nature beyond the claim that they included "formulae, descriptions and leading information involving our hitting and our defensive power."

As the House Un-American Activities committee pushed its spy hunt into this new field:

1. Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) said "the feeling on the committee is unanimous that there is a Soviet espionage ring operating in Washington now." He said the government has done "not one, single, effective thing to prevent it."

2. The committee tried to prod a New York grand jury into coming out with indictments "of all guilty parties" connected with a Soviet espionage ring that was, in committee words, "aided and abetted by officials and employes of our own government."

Layoffs Hit Clyde

FREMONT—(AP)— The Clyde Porcelain Steel company in nearby Clyde has laid off 1,200 of its 1,500 workers because of parts shortages.

SLAYER HUNTED — Guam police and U. S. Navy investigators are rushing a manhunt on the island to find the slayers of pretty Ruth Farnsworth, 27, San Francisco girl who was raped, beaten and left for dead Saturday night. The girl died later in a hospital. A blood-stained club and a pair of paratroop boots are the only clues found so far in the brutal attack (AP Wirephoto)

Revolters Triumph

GUATEMALA, Guatemala (AP)—A military coup has unseated President Salvador Castaneda Castro of El Salvador after a day of fighting, direct reports from the capital said today.

The president's desire for extension of his four-year term of office for another two years from March 1, 1949, appeared to be at least one of the factors. Elections for a constituent assembly to pass on that question were to be held Thursday and Friday.

Four Latin American governments were overthrown earlier this year. These were in Costa Rica, Paraguay, Peru and Venezuela.

A distinction of El Salvador in her size. Little larger than Maryland, she is the smallest of the Central American republics. Fronting on the Pacific between Guatemala and Nicaragua, she has a total area of 13,173 square miles. Coffee is the main base of her economy. The population totals 2,018,895.

Usually reliable sources said Castaneda resigned late yesterday and was taken to police headquarters in San Salvador, the capital. The city was calm after hours of fighting.

The army, a force of five divisions, was reported in control of the country. A San Salvador broadcast heard here charged "the constitution was violated by the decree of the National assembly yesterday" and closed with the words:

"Victory to the youthful militarists, who will faithfully uphold the constitution."

Cars Smash Into House; House Loses

HUNTINGTON, W. Va.—(AP)—Two cars and a house were involved in a collision last night. The cars received minor damages, but the house—wow!

The five-room dwelling was pushed back seven inches on its foundation, floors in every room ripped loose, and the front porch caved in.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carpenter said they had just returned home when they heard a loud crash outside. A split second later the house jarred, nearly upsetting them.

Robert Boster, 19, driver of the car that collided with another automobile and rebounded against the house, said he had liability insurance, but he didn't think it covered anything like this.

Dawes Back Home

CHICAGO—(UP) — Charles G. Dawes, 83-year-old former vice-president of the United States, was back at his Evanston home today from St. Luke's hospital, where he had been confined since Dec. 1 with a flu-like infection.

Fall When Light Cord Breaks

Third Inmate Surrenders

Two Mansfield reformatory inmates suffered leg fractures early today when they fell about 25 feet while attempting to go over the west gate at the institution with the help of a 15-foot pipe and a piece of electric light extension cord.

A third inmate in the escape attempt surrendered at the top of the wall.

Supt. Arthur L. Glattke said the three, all 21 years old, attempted to hoist themselves over the gate by hooking the pipe into the grilling and then sliding to freedom on the extension cord.

The escape was attempted at 2:15 a. m. during a driving rain storm.

Two of the escapers, Jerry Dye, of Montgomery county, (Dayton) and Charles Wood, of Franklin county, Columbus, suffered fractures when the extension cord broke under their weights. The third, Louis Kerr of Lucas county, Toledo, surrendered on top of the wall when the gate guard was alerted by inside officers.

BOTH ANKLES FRACTURED

Glattke said the wall is approximately 25 feet high. It was believed the cord broke as the men were near the top. Dye suffered fractures of both ankles and Wood suffered a fracture of the upper left leg.

The superintendent said all three will be given an additional year on their sentences for attempted escape. The inmates were detailed to the third trick at the institution's power house.

Both injured men are in the reformatory hospital.

Glattke said the escape plot was first discovered by officer David McCracken of the third trick. Guards Harry Crouse and Harold Simon started in pursuit. A warning was flashed to Harold Baker, armed tower guard at the west gate, who ordered Kerr's surrender at the top of the wall.

Dye was received on Jan. 7, 1948 to serve 10 to 25 years for armed robbery. Kerr was received on Oct. 8, 1947 to serve one to 15 years for burglary and Wood is serving a one to 25-year sentence for robbery.

State Cost Boost Booms

Huge Operating Increase Seen

COLUMBUS, — (UP) — The cost of operating the state government will probably be increased by tens of millions of dollars in the 1949-50 biennium, state officials said here today.

Requests of departments of the state of Ohio are already being processed by State Finance Director Herbert Defenbacher. Defenbacher is charged with preparing the partial appropriations bill which will be submitted to the new legislature which meets Jan. 3.

He revealed that the partial appropriations bill, designed only to maintain the existing government functions for the first six months of 1950, would contain "sixeable increases." The increases will be primarily for the welfare department and state universities.

While the operating cost will increase the overall financial output of the state will show a decrease because the 1947-48 program of over a billion dollars included the $300,000,000 veterans bonus and about $136,000,000 in long-delayed capital improvements.

The increases in the partial bill will be reflected along with other increases recommended by Gov.-elect Frank J. Lausche when the two-year budget is submitted to the legislature sometime around March, 1949.

See Record Deer Kill For Ohio

No Accidents Mar Hunting

(By Associated Press)

Ohio's biggest deer-hunting season raches the halfway mark today with thousands of hunters bringing down hundreds of deer in 13 northeastern Ohio counties and no accidents reported.

Fog hampered the nimrods on opening day, Monday, but scattered returns from the shotgun firing lines indicated that when the shooting ends at 4 p. m. Saturday the total bag would exceed the 1,000 animals brought down in eight northeastern Ohio counties last year.

In Trumbull county 65 deer were bagged on the first day of the season, game officials reported, and in Columbiana county the take was 50 for two days, compared with 60 in all of last season.

Lake county game protector Forrest Chamberlin said his incomplete tally for opening day was 11, while Mahoning county, which includes metropolitan Youngstown, reported a kill of 11 to noon yesterday.

Game warden Charles Mitchell said 1,000 permits were issued in Ashtabula county where Kermit Lewis, Pierpont farmer, shot a 14-point buck on opening day. The buck weighed 325 pounds dressedone of the largest ever seen in the area.

Other counties open, to deer hunting are Geauga, Portage, Summit, Stark, Tuscarawas, Carroll, Jefferson, and Harrison.

The Ohio Conservation commission estimated 20,000 hunters had obtained licenses, twice the number issued last year. There are about 5,000 deer in the 13-county area, the commission figured.

BG Coach May Shift Posts

TOLEDO — (AP) — Bowling Green University's football coach, Bob Whittaker, may accept the grid coaching job at Toledo Devilbiss high school, the Toledo Times said last night.

Whittaker coached Bowling Green to its first unbeaten season in history this fall. The Times quoted him as saying he had "reached the top as far as salary was concerned at Bowling Green, and if nothing can be arranged to better my position, I am interested in moving."

Don Sharpe resigned as Devilbiss coach 10 days ago. The high school job is considered one of the best prep jobs in Ohio.

Still Talking

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Still in the "talk" stage is the Ezzard Charles-Pat Comiskey heavyweight boxing clash originally announced as signed for Jan. 12 in Cleveland.

"Sold-Sold-Sold"

We are awfully sorry to disappoint several buyers on the properties we advertised Sunday. The Park Ave. West property and the Maple Lake property were sold before noon Monday. You know we don't tell you they are bargains unless they really are exceptional buys. We know values when we see them for the reason that we have operated constantly for over twenty five years selling real estate. We have another real bargain that we challenge its equal in Mansfield. Here we have a two family duplex located right on Lexington Ave., only a short distance from Main St. These apartments have two bedrooms each, nice living room, modern kitchens, private baths, private entrance nice and clean in every way. There is a full sized lot with single garage. Returning $109.50 per month gross. Will net over 10% after all charges deducted. Price $9200. Out of state owner has given us this price in order to liquidate. Don't be too late on this one. Call Clyde Kessel at

See Record Deer Kill For Ohio

No Accidents Mar Hunting

(By Associated Press)

Ohio's biggest deer-hunting season raches the halfway mark today with thousands of hunters bringing down hundreds of deer in 13 northeastern Ohio counties and no accidents reported.

Fog hampered the nimrods on opening day, Monday, but scattered returns from the shotgun firing lines indicated that when the shooting ends at 4 p. m. Saturday the total bag would exceed the 1,000 animals brought down in eight northeastern Ohio counties last year.

In Trumbull county 65 deer were bagged on the first day of the season, game officials reported, and in Columbiana county the take was 50 for two days, compared with 60 in all of last season.

Lake county game protector Forrest Chamberlin said his incomplete tally for opening day was 11, while Mahoning county, which includes metropolitan Youngstown, reported a kill of 11 to noon yesterday.

Game warden Charles Mitchell said 1,000 permits were issued in Ashtabula county where Kermit Lewis, Pierpont farmer, shot a 14-point buck on opening day. The buck weighed 325 pounds dressedone of the largest ever seen in the area.

Other counties open, to deer hunting are Geauga, Portage, Summit, Stark, Tuscarawas, Carroll, Jefferson, and Harrison.

The Ohio Conservation commission estimated 20,000 hunters had obtained licenses, twice the number issued last year. There are about 5,000 deer in the 13-county area, the commission figured.

Boxer Is Reported In Fair Condition

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Mickey Alagna, New York welterweight, was reported in "fair" condition early today at Bushwick hospital where he was taken after being knocked out in a fight last night.

Alagna was dropped by a right hand blow to the head from Robert E. Miller, also of New York, in the third round of their scheduled six-round preliminary at Broadway arena.

BG Coach May Shift Posts

TOLEDO — (AP) — Bowling Green University's football coach, Bob Whittaker, may accept the grid coaching job at Toledo Devilbiss high school, the Toledo Times said last night.

Whittaker coached Bowling Green to its first unbeaten season in history this fall. The Times quoted him as saying he had "reached the top as far as salary was concerned at Bowling Green, and if nothing can be arranged to better my position, I am interested in moving."

Don Sharpe resigned as Devilbiss coach 10 days ago. The high school job is considered one of the best prep jobs in Ohio.

Still Talking

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Still in the "talk" stage is the Ezzard Charles-Pat Comiskey heavyweight boxing clash originally announced as signed for Jan. 12 in Cleveland.

"Sold-Sold-Sold"

We are awfully sorry to disappoint several buyers on the properties we advertised Sunday. The Park Ave. West property and the Maple Lake property were sold before noon Monday. You know we don't tell you they are bargains unless they really are exceptional buys. We know values when we see them for the reason that we have operated constantly for over twenty five years selling real estate. We have another real bargain that we challenge its equal in Mansfield. Here we have a two family duplex located right on Lexington Ave., only a short distance from Main St. These apartments have two bedrooms each, nice living room, modern kitchens, private baths, private entrance, nice and clean in every way. There is a full sized lot with single garage. Returning $102.50 per month gross. Will net over 10% after all charges deducted. Price $9200. Out of state owner has given us this price in order to liquidate. Don't be too late on this one. Call Clyde Kessel at

Korean Communists Embark on Reign of Terror, Kill Seven

Reds Retard Government Rice Plan

Collections Are Delayed

SEOUL, — (INS) — Korean communists have invoked a reign of terror in south Korea's agricultural districts in a desperate effort to halt the government's newly adopted rice collection program.

Cho Bong Am, agricultural and forestry minister, told International News Service today that new waves of communist violence threaten to reduce rice collections drastically.

He said communist activity during a recent three week period resulted in the deaths of seven rice collection officials and farmers who had participated in the program.

The Korean government has collected 1,223,362 bushels of rice despite growing communist agitation. The rice collection program is scheduled to purchase 36,750,000 bushels from Korean farmers by the end of March, 1949.

Rotarians Share Fun

"Bill," as he was known to Sunshine school classmates, helped Leo DeLaney in a wheel chair go around the table and introduce each of the special guests.

In addition to Leo, there were Neal Brady, Bernie Fleming, Dickie Robertson, Arthur Water, Carl Turner, Shirley Teschler, Dollie Hawk, Arlene Conrady, Jo-Ann Metcalf, Pearl Zellner, Doris Zellner and Edwin Tinkey.

Eleven-year-old Angela Dansby, who had been looking forward to the party since last October, was back in bed again and must remain there for several months. But her gifts will be taken to her.

As their share in the program, the children sang "Night Before Christmas" with descriptive gestures. Miss Mercedes Blue, school music supervisor, was at the piano.

While the Rotarians and the children sang "Jingle Bells," Santa Claus, with his bright red suit and big bag of gifts, came in, watched by 13 pairs of wide, excited eyes. As Santa, played with enthusiasm by Floyd Dent, gave out each gift, there were cries of joy, and boxed gifts, some of them almost as big as the children, were hugged to happy little bodies.

GIFTS FOR ALL

Mrs. Fred Tracy, one of the group of Rotary members' wives who had helped with arrangements, had purchased the gifts and she had gone down the list faithfully, giving each child just what he wanted. There was a truck — big enough for a boy — a pink-costumed doll, jeweled earrings, juke-box banks, cameras, cologne, pen and pencil set, a toy typewriter, musical powder box and lots of others so that each child had at least two presents. In addition, a club member who wished to remain anonymous, gave each child a brand new dollar bill. There also was a gift for "Bill" Muntan.

Held to Jury On Charge Of Burglary

Man Accused of Taking Two Purses

Robert Eugene Hall jr., 25, of 319 Grant street, was bound over to the grand jury by Judge H. H. Schettler in municipal court yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering.

Hall is accused of entering the home of Earl E. Keltner, 303 Wayne street, on Dec. 5 and taking two purses from a table just inside the front door.

He was ordered held for the grand jury under $5,000 bond after an hour and a half preliminary hearing. Mrs. Peggy Ranshaw, Keltner's sister-in-law, who was in the house at the time of the alleged theft, testified that she saw Hall enter the front door and snatch the purses. He was arrested a short time later.

ON PROBATION

Probation Officer Ralph Hughes said Hall is on probation from Common Pleas court for breaking into the Augustine Filling station, 238 North Diamond street, earlier this year.

Elzie E. Gilliam, Mansfield, R D. 1, was fined $100 and costs and lost his right to drive for six months on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. Fifty dollars of the fine was suspended on condition he pay damages to Russell Bricker.

Walter Shaffer, of Bristolville, was fined $20 and costs for operating an overloaded motor vehicle and Myrl E. Cash of Beach City, was fined $15 and costs on a similar charge.

For speeding, Michael Defun, of Philadelphia, Pa., forfeited a $25 bond and Roy Jackson, Mansfield, R. D. 2, wah fined $20 and costs on a similar count.

Hospital, Home Patients To Get 'Sunshine Baskets'

Small "Sunshine Baskets" filled with appropriate gifts will be distributed this holiday season to hospitals and the Richland county home, Maj. William J. Jones, commander of the Salvation Army, said today.

Distribution of the baskets will be a part of the program of Christmas cheer which Salvation Army workers plan to bring to several score patients and home residents Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 22 and 23.

Superintendents of Mansfield's three hospitals—Wayne A. Copeland at General, Edward Adams at Madison and David J. Davies at Peoples hospital have promised cooperation in making the distribution a typically Santa Claus gesture.

Salvation Army workers, accompanied by Santa, will distribute the baskets and, in addition to the gifts, there will be candy and fruit where they do not conflict with the patient's diet, Major Jones said.

At the County home Harry Weaver, superintendent, also has promised cooperation for the inmates at the home.

At General hospital, patients in the children's ward will be given special attention by the Salvation Army workers.

The small baskets are provided to the local unit by the national headquarters of the Salvation Army, Maj. Jones said.

Tanks Worth $360 Reported Stolen

Theft of nine oxygen and acetylene tanks was reported to sheriff's deputies Monday. Russell McNeely, of 96 Raymond avenue, who had been using the tanks, made the report to deputies.

The tanks, which had been rented by the Commercial Scrap company of East Longview avenue, and loaned to McNeeley who sells scrap iron to the company, were stolen from near Nashville.

Carl Wiseman, owner of the Commercial Scrap company, said each of the tanks was worth about $40. The theft occurred within the last three weeks.

High School Choirs to Sing Christmas Carols Thursday

A program of descriptive Christmas music, both the old familiar carols and modern Yuletide music, will be presented in the Senior high school auditorium Thursday at 8 p. m.

The program will be given by members of the sophomore, junior and senior choirs, the carolers and different ensembles of the school under the direction of A. LeMoine Derr.

Derr has planned a "different type of program, he said. Among the numbers will be a "human" Christmas tree, in which 35 Senior high students will participate. The "tree" will be a graduated scaffolding, 15 feet in diameter and 18 feet high. The 35 students will wear green costumes with branches of evergreens on their arms and holding battery candles.

The entire auditorium will be darkened for this number, Derr said, and only the lighted candles and the faces of the students will be visible in the darkness. At the top of the 18-foot "tree" will be one girl with a huge star behind her. Standing thus students will sing Christmas carols.

Another number will be nine little chimneys, each holding a Santa Claus; another, Santa gift boxes each holding three pretty girls. Several of the numbers will be in costume.

The program will include boys singing backstage, "O Come, All Ye Faithful" and "O Holy Night"; the Christmas tree; Junior girls' trio, "Here Comes Santa Claus"; Senior girls' trio, "All I Want for Christmas"; Junior boys' ensemble, "White Christmas"; Junior girls' ensemble, "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town"; Sophomore girls ensemble, "Christmas Song"; Junior girls' ensemble, "Don't Wait 'Til the Night Before Christmas."

There will be an accordion solo, "Winter Wonderland"; carols by the Senior high carolers; combined choirs in "Jingle Bells" and "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," and the organ with combined choirs in four sacred Christmas hymns.

Three Yule Parties Given By P-TAs

Carols Feature School Programs

Three Mansfield P-TA's presented their annual Christmas programs at meetings Tuesday night.

More than 400 attended the meeting of Hedges P-TA in the school gym. Christmas carols were sung by members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, and a Christmas play was given by fifth and sixth graders. Mrs. William Bishop was program chairman.

The Senior high school carolers presented a program of Christmas carols at the Bowman P-TA. Stereopticon Christmas pictures accompanied by the singing of Christmas carols were shown by sixth grade students under the direction of Miss Dorothy Van Voorhis.

During the business meeting preceding the program members voted to endorse the high school driving course. Miss Alice Schwed was appointed chairman of a committee in charge of a parent teachers magazine.

At Prospect P-TA David Gregg led the group in singing Christmas carols. The meeting was opened with a prayer led by Nelson Neff, president.

TREAT FOR CHILDREN

It was announced the P-TA and Mothers club would give the children a Christmas treat. Home room mothers are planning Christmas parties to be held Friday afternoon. The P-TA also will present six Christmas baskets to needy Mansfield families.

The movie, "The House We Live In," was shown as part of the program.

Maj. William J. Jones of the Salvation Army spoke to the group on "The Children's Bill of Rights."

He outlined the needs of children as being in love and affection, a sense of belonging and being "accepted," creative opportunities and the feeling of accomplishment, and the chance for expression.

A wind of four to seven miles an hour is a slight breeze, on the Beaufort scale.

HARLAN JENNINGS

Area Engineer To Get Title

NEW LONDON — A certificate as engineer or surveyor in training will be presented to Harlan Jennings, local graduate of the University of Cincinnati, at a ceremony in the Cleveland Engineers club at 8 p. m. Saturday.

Jennings was informed of the presentation in a letter received last week from Robert N. Waid, secretary of the state board of registration for professional engineers and surveyors. Harlan is following the footsteps of an older brother, Royce, who began his career in the same field.

Navy service temporarily halted his work but now he is a member of the building firm of Jennings and Churella, New London home builders. Between college graduation and receipt of their certificates both men worked with their father, Glenn Jennings, cement block and concrete products manufacturer here.

Pellets Penetrate Windows In Ashland

ASHLAND—Police are seeking clues to the vandals who shot holes through three Ashland business place windows during the weekend.

Windows damaged by pellets, apparently fired from guns, included a gift shop, a restaurant and a barger shop.

Sign Marks Air Route To Bucyrus

Pilots Directed To Its Airport

BUCYRUS—Aviators will have no difficulty locating Bucyrus in the future, city officials announced today.

A huge "Bucyrus" sign, together with direction symbols, has been painted on the roof of the State Highway garage here. Warren K. Leuthold, Bucyrus, who painted the sign, said the letters are 11 feet high and two feet wide.

In addition to the name of the city, the sign includes a true north circle and arrow and a figure "2," denoting the two-mile distance to Bucyrus airport.

Youth Gets Probation

A 16-year-old youth, who confessed to breaking and entering of the Possum Run golf course club house when $175 in merchandise was taken, was put on two years probation today in juvenile court.

The youth confessed to the charges. Court testimony disclosed he refused to go along with two older youths on another burglary attempt.

The other two who confessed to the Possum Run burglary were Herbert Yates, 20, of Fairfax avenue, and Claude Rose, 19, of Nova. However, they were charged with breaking into the J. and E. Canfield service station, 280 Central avenue, Sunday and taking $12 from a pinball machine. They were bound over to the grand jury yesterday in municipal court.

The 16-year-old was ordered by Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer to obtain full-time employment or attend school and report to the court each Saturday at 10 a. m. He was placed under the supervision of his parents who are to report if he violates his probation.

NEW PRESIDENT — Robert Peelle, Sabina, O., farmer, holds the president's gavel of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, succeeding Perry L. Green, Mantua, who retired after serving 15 years. Peelle has been a member of the Farm Bureau since 1921 and has held several responsible positions. He has served on the board of trustees for seven years.

Girl Scouts Promoted At Ceremonies

Twelve members of Girl Scout Troop 24 became Senior Service Scouts at investitute ceremonies held in the parlors of the First Presbyterian church last night.

Marilyn Klee, Donna Davis, and Betty Jone Garver of Mariner Troop 19 served as Senior sisters for the service.

Forming a color guard, they led the girls into a traditional Girl Scout formation. After giving the pledge to the flag and singing "America the Beautiful," each girl repeated the Girl Scout promise by candlelight

. The girls repeated the 10 Girl Scout laws in unison, followed by a "Prayer for Blessing."

The Senior sisters presented the girls to Miss Margaret Rooney, executive director of Girl Scouts, who gave each girl her Senior Scout pin, and a short congratulatory speech.

Members of Troop 24 presented a large tray to Miss Rooney for the Girl Scout Town House. The tray was painted by the girls in Scout colors, a green background with a circle of gold trefoils. Each trefoil was autographed by the girl who painted it.

Cancellations Disclose Lag

Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford today urged Mansfielders to do their Christmas mailing at once if they wish to avoid the last minute rush which the post office expects to develop next week.

Ford said yesterday's machine cancellations totaled $89,600 as compared with $151,000 for the same date last year. He pointed out this was a good indication of how much this year's mailing is lagging behind that of last year.

A total of 130,000 stamps were sold at the post office yesterday, as compared with 120,000 sold on the same date last year. In other words, Ford said, people are buying stamps in preparation for mailing, but are putting off mailing packages and cards until the last minute.

Of the stamps sold yesterday, 80,000 were one-an-a-half-cent, the type commonly used for mailing Christmas cards. On the same date last year only 50,000 one-and-a-half-cent stamps were sold.

Receipts for yesterday were $3,782, or $10 less than the same date last year.

Postal receipts for this month so far are $57.71 behind those of the same period last year, Ford said.

Pointing out the slowness of mailing this year, he said that only 45 extra employes and 10 trucks are now being used to distribute and deliver mail. At the same time last year 95 extra men had been employed and 13 trucks were in service.

O'Neil's Workers Receive Bonus

Christmas bonueses went out to 273 regular and extra employes of the M. O'Neil company today, including sales personnel, office workers and warehouse employes.

Jack V. Miller, manager of the Mansfield store, said all regular employes received a full week's extra pay. Regular employes of the store number 128 men and women.

Holiday season extra help were paid according to the time they've been in the employe of the store. Miller said 145 extra workers have been added to the staff for the holiday season.

Second Mansfielder Inducted Under New Draft Regulations

The second Mansfielder to go into the army under the new draft law was inducted today at the Mansfield Induction center. His induction had been postponed twice.

Clayton C. Reynard, 24, of 207 First street, received notice from the local draft board in mid-November to report for induction Nov. 26.

The date was set back to Dec. 6 because he was not granted the 21 days between his notice of acceptability and his induction date, as provided by the law.

The induction date was postponed again until today to fit in better with schedules of the army recruiting office, draft board officials said.

Six more Richland countians are to be inducted Dec. 30 to fill the December quota of seven men, Mrs. Leah Maxwell, selective service clerk, announced today. Notices are being sent today, she said.

Reynard will be sent to Fort Knox, Ky., tomorrow morning for further processing and basic training, an induction center official said.

The new draftee lived in Grafton before the war and came to Mansfield after nearly three years in the merchant marine. He was employed here as a conductor for the Pennsylvania railroad.

Cab Injures Pedestrian

Charles Wagner, 66, of 84 North Adams street, was reported in "good" condition at General hospital today after suffering head and leg injuries last night when struck by a Reliable cab at East Fourth and North Adams streets.

Police, who rushed Wagner to General hospital in a traffic cruiser, said he suffered lacerations of the face, a head injury and contusions of both legs.

Officers said Wagner was struck by a cab driven by Isiah Tillman, 121 East Fourth street, when Tillman attempted a left turn onto Adams from Fourth street. The accident, police said, occurred at 8:45 p. m.

CLEVELAND, — (AP) — Fifty new policemen were sworn in today by Safety Director William F. Smith, bringing the numerical strength of the department to 1,640 for a new high.

3 Speakers Talk On Safety

Members of the Rebecca Grubaugh P-TA heard appeals last night for safety training in the school and home.

Three speakers talked at the safety meeting in the school auditorium, discussing the schoolboy Patrol and its work and the need for emphasizing safety in the training of children.

Speakers were Charles Viberts, director of safety and education for the state Automobile association; Jack Berger secretary of the Richland County Auto club, and W. C. Leonard of the Ohio Industrial commission, who arranged the safety program.

Wilbur Upson, president of the P-TA, was in charge of the meeting.

115 Attend 50-Year Club Annual Fete In Bucyrus

BUCYRUS—Approximately 115 attended the 18th annual dinner of the Bucyrus 50-Year club, composed of men who have followed the same occupation in Bucyrus for a half century or more, held last night in Good Hope Lutheran church parish house here.

W. A. Blicke, Bucyrus bank president and founder of the club, which has attracted national attention, was host at the banquet. Twenty-two of the 25 living members of the club were present.

Two members, Elmer E. Seits, a retired pattern maker, and Elmer E. Class, grocer, were unable to be present because of illness and a third member, Fred Wise, merchant and mortician, is in Florida.

Chief speaker was Justice James G. Stewart of the Ohio Supreme Court. Blicke acted as toastmaster.

One candidate, Victor Nussbaum, a tailor here 50 years, became a full-fledged member at last night's annual meeting.

The special guest list included Justices Edward S. Mathias and Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court; Robert L. Moulton of Galion, who will become state director of commerce next month; Robert Mason, owner of radio station WMRN at Marion; Johnny Jones, Columbus newspaper columnist; Charles F. Ackerman, 92, Mansfield bank president; Henry Gramlich, Kenton banker, and several others.

The 74 members of the Bucyrus Rotary club also were guests.

Plant Awards Service Pins

ASHLAND—The newly organized Quarter Century club of the A. L. Garber Company, local publishing concern, includes eight members, all of whom were awarded service pins at the annual dinner at Ashland Country club.

Members of the new organization include Mrs. Sadie Jackson, an employe since 1913; Mrs. Harry Franks, Farlan Phifer, Fred Dove, Chester Morr, Paul Bailey, Frank Crain and Vinton Berry.

Service pins were presented by Mrs. Lucille Garber Ford, granddaughter of the founder who organized the company in 1879.

Has Obtained a New Lease

WILL CONTINUE AT PRESENT LOCATION

Here Is What Happened:

In October 1948, our store faced a lease termination on December 31, 1948 . . . in less than three months . . . and no apparent hope of a renewal. Accordingly we announced a sweeping liquidation and stock reducing sale. We were preparing to move to much smaller quarters, so at the peak of the season, with our store packed with excellent assortments and new items arriving daily from the market, we held a once-in-our-liftime sale.

Now, the last thing we ever expected had come to pass. We have obtained a new term lease and we are going to stay right where the Jones Store has been so long, continuing to handle wide offerings of tasteful, practical furniture and furnishings, and the finest in pianos, organs and radios.

What Has Happened at Jones in the Last 90 Days

. . . liquidation, preparing to move, and now the announcement of our new lease . . . is so far from the beaten path of our well known policy of conservative, fair dealing that we have no hesitancy in making this announcement to tell the good news that we shall carry on the W. E. JONES name as always and along with it the names of Steinway, Sohmer, Lester, Connsonata, Capehart, Philco, Stromberg-Carlson, Kindel, Willett, Jamestown Royal, Tomlinson and others of the world leaders.

May we invite you to visit our store now complete with brand new home furnishings, as we solicit your patronage.

We extend to all our best wishes for a most happy holiday season.

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1948

The Santa Claus legend is delightful, and merits being preserved. But young children also need be taught the real meaning of Christmas.

While wrestling is one of the most ancient sports—and recognizing "equality of the sexes"—it's still difficult to become reconciled to "lady" wrestlers.

Too Late To 'Mail Early'-Do It NOW!

MANSFIELDERS seem to be doing half the job of getting their Christmas mailing done—but not the important half! They are buying stamps but are not getting their cards and packages to the post office.

Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford issues a timely warning that if cards are not mailed soon they simply cannot be delivered in time for Christmas. The volume of stamp purchases indicates heavy mailing to come, and it will be physically impossible to handle all of the items in one week.

From now on it seems to be up to residents of the city. If they want their gifts and cards to arrive in time for Christmas they had better mail now or wait for next year.

Move To Boost President's Salary

PROPOSAL to raise the salary of the President of the United States from its present $75,000 a year to possibly double that figure appears quite defensible, as viewed in the light of responsibilities and expenses attendant upon the incumbent, and the general upward trend of compensation in public and private employment.

Any such move, of course, would necessitate upping the salaries of many other high-placed government officials, with the total of such increases estimated at around a billion dollars a year—but what's a billion dollars when distributed among two million government employes!

The only sticking point, if anything is to be done about it insofar as President Truman is concerned, is that action must be taken by Congress before January 20, as the President's first full term starts on that date. The Constitution says that the chief executive's salary "shall neither be increased nor diminished during the period for which he shall have been elected."

There may be some contention that President Truman seemed satisfied to run for the office on the basis of the $75,000 a year salary, but that's beside the point. If he's worth more, he should have it.

Welfare Fund For Idle Musicians

NOW THAT a "welfare fund," estimated at around two million dollars a year, is to be provided for unemployed musicians, it appears that James C. Petrillo, head of the musicians' union, will again permit the making of musical recordings, for use on canned radio programs and in coin-operated phonographs.

Announcement has been made that agreement has been reached between the Petrillo-controlled union and the record-making firms, under which a royalty is to be paid on each record, thus creating a welfare fund from which to pay unemployed musicians to give free concerts.

The fund thus created is to be under a trusteeship, with a reported salary of $25,000 a year to the one trustee, for which position Samuel R. Rosenbaum, director of the Philadelphia Orchestra Association, has been chosen.

Now that assurance has been given that the "welfare" of unemployed musicians is being safeguarded at public expense, it seems not untimely to suggest something along the same line for artists and poets who lack sufficient earning power to maintain standards of living equal to those in the higher brackets of their profession—in fact the possibilities seem almost limitless . . . as viewed from an eleemosynary standpoint.

Industrial Progress In Austria

AMONG the delegates to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization conference, to be held soon in Washington, is Otto Sagmeister, minister of food for Austria.

Expressing his thanks to the United States for Marshall Plan aid received by his country, Mr. Sagmeister described the progress being made there along agricultural lines. The 1948 harvest was 15 per cent higher than that of last year, due partly to the use of American farm machinery and fertilizer. This improvement is smaller than that in some other European countries, which have nearly attained pre-war output, according to Sagmeister. Their slow progress is attributed by the Austrians to the four-power occupation of their country.

The food minister claims that Austria is strongly democratic in its political line-up, and declares, as do many of his countrymen, that withdrawal of the occupation forces would now be safe.

Withdrawal of occupation troops from Austria waits on the making of a peace treaty, and that seems destined to hang on solution of the differences regarding Germany between Russia and the Western Powers. Hence thoughtful Austrians might resign themselves to making what progress they can under the handicap of occupation.

Airports Need Ice-Free Runways

SOLUTION of military problems sometimes works to advantage in serving peace-time purposes. In Alaska, for instance, airport runways are frequently blocked by heavy snowfalls and icy conditions. So military engineers propose sinking heat pipes under the runways to maintain a temperature sufficient to assure freedom from snow and ice.

The idea in itself is not novel, but the catch has been that no single heating unit has been capable of handling such long lines of pipe as would be necessary at airports, so a trial is being made of 1,000-foot lengths, attached to small, efficient heating units.

Extension of this idea may result in sometime freeing sidewalks and principal streets of cities from the hazards resulting from heavy snowfalls and ice-coated pavements.

Youth Speaks For GOP

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON — As the returns come in from Republican ranks, high and low, old and young, as to where their party should go from here and how it should set about it, there begins to emerge a broad pattern of method on which, at least, there can be fairly general agreement.

The party has its divisions and schisms. This was apparent in the last Congress, in its national convention, in the campaign, but more dramatically so since the election.

The defeat opened sores and loosed tongues that had kept politely, discreetly and politically still during the battle.

While the differences are less sharp than those in the Democratic party, they are nonetheless real and formidable.

The first essential, then, would seem to be a spirit of compromise among the conflicting party elements.

The second is a realization of the bare and basic fact that the party "can no longer afford to have congressional policies of one variety and presidential candidates of another," as it is most aptly put in one of the most discerning blueprints for the party's future course, the joint statement issued by the Young Republican clubs of Harvard, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Radcliffe and Wellesley.

This outstanding obstacle was clearly revealed in the campaign when the party's candidates, Governors Dewey and Warren, found the load of the record of the 80th Congress too heavy a burden.

That record was contrary in so many respects to their own views and the party platforms of both 1944 and 1948 that they could not defend it and so had to skitter nervously all around it.

Meanwhile President Truman had a field day with their dilemma and discomfiture. He never let the voters forget about Congress. It was his major issue and, as it turned out, a winning one.

* * *

Variety of Suggestions.

THIS fundamental incompatibility, which has been embarrassing before to other Republican candidates, points directly to another essential of party reorganization, which is the need of a co-ordinated party policy.

It now seems generally agreed among all elements except the "moss-backs" that the policy must be one in keeping with the times and one in which there is a recognition of the part the federal government has come to play in the lives of the people.

The party must take account of "the facts of life," as the young Republican men and women of the four New England colleges express it, in formulating a policy that will "rekindle our party's traditional fires of humanitarianism."

As to methods of attaining this there are various proposals, out of which, however, a sound approach can be developed.

The Young Republicans, in their manifesto, recommend that a group of party leaders be delegated as spokesmen of the party and so recognized and authorized; that a national meeting of party leaders be held here early in January to adopt a body of principles and plan strategy for the next four years: that the party decide now just what sort of candidate they want in 1952, that is, what he should stand for, and develop a program in Congress on which he could run and on which congressional leaders can support him, and that for this there must be closer cooperation and coordination between House and Senate party leaders.

Another suggestion comes from Dan Whetstone, former Republican national committeeman of Montana, a newspaper publisher, which is that the national committee be made the top policy group and be given authority commensurate with that role.

These and other suggestions indicate a lively interest in reorganization and reorientation of the party which, it is hoped, will bear fruit, for a strong and intelligent opposition is absolutely essential in a healthy democracy.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON—Read this and decide for yourself what you think of the spy case.

But remembr that not all the facts may yet be publicly known.

A number of people have been named in the case. Most often mentioned are Whittaker Chambers, 47 years old, and Alger Hiss, 44.

Chambers is a writer. Hiss used to be an official of the state department.

You'll notice as you go along that Chambers has been telling his story for years but he hasn't always told quite the same story.

Start at he beginning. Chambers says that in 1938, after 14 years as a member, he quit the Communist party. Part of that time he says he had been a courier of a communist underground here.

The next year, 1939, he says he tried to warn President Roosevelt of that underground.

But he says Marvin McIntyre, the President's secretary, told him to take his story to Adolf A. Berle jr., who was an assistant secretary of state.

Chambers says now he warned Berle of the underground in 1939 and told him Hiss was a part of it.

(Berle, testifying in 1948 about that conversation, says Chambers didn't talk of an underground group at all.

(Berle says Chambers merely told him Hiss and others were part of a group studying Russia and that the communists hoped to get them "sympathetic" to the communists.

(And, Berle says, Chambers told him in 1939 no spying was involved.)

In 1942—Chambers says now—he told his story of the underground to the FBI, naming Hiss as part of it. The FBI talked to him a number of times in the years that followed.

In that same year of 1942 the FBI checked on Hiss. But what it found is not known. Hiss has denied Chambers' accusations over and over.

* * *

Hiss Quizzed by FBI.

THE STORY jumps to 1946. In that year—Hiss says now—he heard stories were being spread that he was a communist. He went to see the FBI about it and was asked several questions about knowing certain people. But he says he was not asked about Whittaker Chambers.

IN 1947—Hiss says now—two FBI men called on him and asked him if he knew a Whittaker Chambers. He says he told them he did not.

The story now moves up to 1948. The House un-American activities committee, which by this time had heard of Chambers and his story, called him as a witness last summer.

Chambers told the committee Hiss and others had been part of a communist underground back in 1938 but he said spying was not the primary purpose.

When asked if he had any factual evidence to support his charges, Chambers said "nothing beyond the fact" that he had known Hiss as a communist.

Then the committee called Hiss. Hiss denied ever knowing Chambers as Chambers. Then, confronted with Chambers, Hiss said he had known him here years ago as "George Crosley," a writer, and had sublet his apartment to him. He said "Crosley" was a "deadbeat."

Then a New York grand jury, which for months had been investigating an alleged pre-war Soviet spy ring here, called Hiss and Chambers to testify before it. Nothing happened.

Then Hiss sued Chambers for $75,000 for calling him a communist.

Finally—faced with the loss of $75,000 unless he could prove his charge—Chambers produced papers which he said were evidence that Hiss was a communist. He said Hiss had taken these papers from the state department for the Soviet spy ring.

Then Chambers told the committee for the first time that the pre-war communist underground was really a Soviet spy ring.

The justice department grabbed the papers and turned them over to the grand jury, which called Hiss and Chambers before it again.

But the department missed something.

A little later, under prodding from committee investigators, Chambers dug up some microfilms from a pumpkin and gave them to the committee as more evidence.

He said he hadn't produced the evidence before because he didn't want to hurt anyone too badly. Now, he said, he came up with the papers to save himself when he got jammed in the libel suit.

Applicants Undergo Polite Third Degree

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Ever since election day, Secretary of Defense Forrestal has been frantically painting himself a true and loyal Democrat. But here is an off-the-record talk indicating the kind of men Forrestal puts in high position.

The other day, Donald Carpenter, Forrestal's newly handpicked chairman of the munitions board, called in William Bourne of the state department and suggested that he take charge of the munitions board's press relations. After some inconsequential conversation Carpenter looked quizzically at Bourne and asked:

"Now what about your politics?"

Startled at the blatancy of a question which is prohibited being asked of civil service applicants, Bourne replied: "What do you mean?"

"I would like to know what your political affiliations are," replied Forrestal's munitions chairman.

"It seems to me you could tell from my accent what my politics are," replied Bourne. "I am a southern Democrat."

"Well," replied Carpenter, "we feel that it is necessary that we should know this. Mr. Forrestal said we want to be sure not to get one of these New Dealers in this job."

* * *

Big Business Comes First.

BOURNE replied that he didn't think his political affiliations would prevent him from doing a good public relations job for the munitions board, and Carpenter went on to other things.

"What do you think of business?" he asked.

"I don't get what you mean," replied Bourne. "I'm for business, if that's what you mean."

"No," replied the munitions board chairman, "what I mean is that in the munitions board it's our job to prepare for war. In making war we have to depend on Big Business. Only Big Business can turn out the materials we need in the volume we need. Mr. Forrestal says we don't want to get a New Dealer in this job who is opposed to Big Business.

"We don't want to get somebody who'll be worried about labor relations, small business and that sort of stuff," continued Carpenter. "We've had too much of that in the past. It's going to be a relief now with the changes coming up."

* * *

Help Run Government.

IT ISN'T so hard to understand why Carpenter thinks that way when you examine his background. He is a member of the same Du Pont-Carpenter family which contributed a cool $186,780 to the 1940 campaign to defeat Roosevelt, which organized the Liberty League in 1936, and which in the last election poured still uncounted thousands into the battle against Truman.

But it is hard to understand why Forrestal hires a member of the Du Pont tribe to work with an administration whose aims are diametrically and irrevocably the opposite. However, this may be one explanation:

Back in the 1920's, Secretary Forrestal's Wall Street firm loaned $20,000,000 to Bolivia, used to buy arms to wage war against Paraguay.

Part of the money was even used to hire the notorious Ernst Roehm, close buddy of Hitler, to act as military adviser to the Bolivian government, where he first developed the storm troopers. Later Roehm did the same job for Hitler.

It is significant that some time after Forrestal loaned this money to Bolivia, the Remington Arms company, of which Donald Carpenter is now vice president, stepped in to profit by it. Remington got a contract for 7.65-mm. and 9-mm. cartridges. Carpenter had just joined the firm when this sale was made.

So Forrestal and Carpenter, once operators in indirectly fomenting war in Latin America, are now together in running American defense.

* * *

Encourages Latin Dictators.

PRACTICALLY all Latin America is watching the state department to see what we do about recognizing the new army dictatorship in Venezuela.

Not only did the Venezuelan generals throw out the first president Venezuela ever elected, but they threw out the man who had traveled all the way to Bolivar, Missouri, with President Truman and who had been hailed as a great democrat and friend of the U. S. A.

Furthermore, the state department's trigger-recognition of Latin dictators has brought forth a rash of military revolts, the latest being the Nicaraguan-inspired march against the peaceful government of Costa Rica.

Naturally, if the state department now recognizes the Venezuelan dictators, it will lead to even more revolts.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Defense Forrestal still favors his plan of sending more arms to Latin America under a new lend-lease agreement, despite the fact that new arms to Latin American generals are like a toy train to a small boy at Christmastime. They can't wait to use them—usually against their own president.

Man Who Does Things

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON—Geographically speaking, it's a long jump back from Yucatan, Mexico, to the District of Columbia—even though you can make it in a matter of hours these days, what with the airlines and everything.

Even so, you don't expect, in these times, to find the people in Washington talking about the same character who was the subject of discussion in Yucatan. That sort of situation could lead you to believe that the hemispheric needle was stuck, or something like that.

Nevertheless, that's what happened.

Down in Merida, the capital of Yucatan, they seem to like this boy Delesseps S. (Chep) Morrison, the 36-year-old mayor of New Orleans. Maybe it's because he's taken the time to come down and spend time with them.

Lots of North Americanos don't take the trouble. Or, maybe it's because when the veteran of World War II was kicking around in their Bailiwick, they just decided he was a pretty good Joe.

It could be for a lot of reasons. But whatever the cause, that's what this correspondent was hearing about Chep Morrison in Merida, Yucatan, before returning to Washington—that he was a guy worth watching.

Then, after passing rapidly through New Orleans on the return trip and landing in Washington, suddenly I discovered that people in this capital city of the United States were saying the same thing. Chep Morrison was here, and the old line politicians were giving him a quick once-over to see what gave with this boy with the golden touch.

Morrison was in town as a speaker before the American Municipal Association. But he hadn't been here half a day before the old-time capital politicos were around, buttering him up and trying to find out where he thought he was going and how he aimed to get there.

And those who didn't drop around to his hotel suite were talking him over elsewhere, just the same.

Looking at them logically, their reasons are fairly understandable. In the realm of national politics in general, and southern politics in particular, Chep Morrison remains the imponderable factor.

* * *

What'll He Do Next?

WHAT he has done is clean, yet how he has been able to do it is far from clear. There are those who claim that the power he carries and the strength behind him are equally without weight.

Nevertheless, as the saying goes, nothing succeeds like succes, and in the confused Louisiana political scramble, Chep Morrison has come through with a brand of success which stretches far beyond the city limits of New Orleans or even the confines of the Creole state.

He has given the revived Huey Long faction a spectacular run for its money—to the point where the heirs of the late Kingfish's regime now are hollering calf-rope.

And even that he did with a turn-the-other-cheek routine! He told the Long boys that he wanted to get along. Either they didn't believe him, or they didn't think it was necessary.

Anyway, they gave him the Louisiana version of the Bronx cheer. That happened several times. Finally he quit pacifying and started punching.

The result is too well known to require recounting. Every time he really set out to fight the old Long faction, he won. And, speaking in the terms of professional or career politicians, those were no small victories . . . which brings us back to the beginning of this piece.

Why they talked about him in Yucatan is anybody's guess. But why they talk about Chep Morrison in Washington today is because they are greatly curious as to how he managed to do what he has done.

Maybe, one of these days, they'll learn.

Listen World

Suggesting 'Wives' Day'

By ELSIE ROBINSON

I WISH I were powerful enough to declare a national holiday. I know one that's badly needed, one that would make the world far safer for matrimony, and that holiday would be Wives Day

We have Mothers' Day, Fathers' Day and Valentine Day for sweethearts, but when do the wives have their innings? Not the lovely young brides or the precious old grandmothers but the in-between wives who are growing a little old, a little grey, a little slow, a little fat—the uninteresting wives who have lost the charm of their youth and are still untouched by the twilight beauty of age. How about the wife whom everyone forgets, including her husband?

Yes, she is forgotten, pardner. Maybe you'll bring her some flowers once a year or a box of candy but how often do you think of her as the girl you married? You feed her, sure, and pay her bills of course. But how about her heart, that heart is still 16 although you think she is 60?

She moves around, she does important things, and you would find your world suddenly desolate if she were gone. But do you ever realize that? Do you ever realize that she is a human being with a human being's aches and hungers and pains and dreams?

Unreasonable tears are adorable in youth but who tries to understand them when a wife is 40? To whom can she confide the foolish longings that beat their wings behind her well schooled eyes?

Who knows the hunger for the kisses that have passed, the small, gay chance adventures that used to warm her blood? Who stops to think that she might like to run away, to jump her job and be herself just a little while before youth's fires flicker quite away?

Orange wreathes for the wives who are young, violets and silver lace for those who are old, but what for the wife who is neither young nor old yet who needs romance most of all?

Hers is the burden in the heat of the day with a heart that is ever yearning back to the sunrise. Poets do not sing of her, men's hearts do not stir for her, and the fashion hints neglect her altogether. But every little heaven on earth knows the touch of her fading hand.

Dave Boone Says:

DECEMBER is Bible month and the Good Book will be read for comfort, guidance and for beauty with the glow peculiar to Christmastide. No other book will come even close.

* * *

You can read all the other books ever written and the contents will seem like soap-opera trash compared to the incredible beauty of writing to be found in almost any single chapter of the Bible. You don't know great poetry until you've read the Psalms.

* * *

With millions of dollars and limitless energy spent to make store windows beautiful at Christmas, I wish somebody would devote one window to nothing but a simple old-fashioned living-room table with a thumb-worn Bible on it. It would take the prize for effective Christmastime window dressing, if you ask me.

One Man's Opinion

—By WALTER KIERNAN

THE sentencing of a spy to 20 years by the Russians again illustrates the advantages of American citizenshop . . . No native spy would be given such shoddy treatment here.

One woman who admitted dealings with the Soviet was rather cruelly handled . . . She was put on a television program without makeup.

* * *

But we can appreciate the department of justice fears of "premature publicity" in spy cases . . . some of the evidence is only ten years old.

* * *

And they wouldn't want to have those 10-year-old secrets fall into the hands of an enemy . . . as they did when they were still new and secret.

One thing about those microfilms . . . in contrast to some Hollywood releases they do contain a plot.

A fluffy meringue topping gives this easy-to-make pudding a springlike air. To make, prepare a package of vanilla pudding, mix according to the directions on the package. Cool. Fold in four oranges, peeled and sliced. Pour into a small porcelain enameled pudding pan. Top with puffs of meringue made by beating two egg whites until stiff and folding in three tablespoons sugar. Bake in slow oven (325° F.) for about 15 minutes until delicately browned. Makes five servings.

HOROSCOPE

For Thursday, December 16

A DISINTEGRATING or chaotic state of affairs, seemingly hopeless and difficult, may be suddenly broken into or set in surprisingly accelarated motion by a novel idea or plan, original and daring, perhaps startling in its novelty or ingenuity. It may have to be "sold" to those not too readily approached, but skill and ingenuity may prove queer situations calling for practical as well as fresh technique and advanced methods

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may be called upon to attack an involved or menaced situation by a definite departure from old ways and means. A baffling or devastating condition may call for drastic, radical and novel tactics This may prove to be the more effective method of approach to influential persons whose cooperation is vital to important progress. Ingenuity, skill, fresh approach may be brought to bear on some queer or complicated matter. Perhaps "dragging a skeleton out of the closet" by forthright measures could bring to light covert motives or aims, more successfully opening new channels or contacts.

A child born on this day may have novelty and originality, with daring and skill in unraveling difficulties or strange situations.

Catholic Nurses Have Holiday Party

The Catholic nurses of the Mansfield deanery held their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Earl E. Roberts, 0598 Sunset boulevard, recently.

Lovely Christmas decorations added a festive air to the delightfully served turkey dinner. A basket was prepared with food and Christmas goodies for a less fortunate family. Games were played in keeping with the Yuletide season and a gift exchange completed the evening's entertainment. The next meeting will be held Jan. 13th at the home of Mrs. Robert Au, 121 Lexington avenue.

. . . Miss Elsie Kinkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kinkel, 337 Ruth avenue, and Miss Marian Haring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Haring jr., 464 Shepard road, both juniors at Greenbrier college, Lewisburg, W. Va., attended a formal theater party at the Greenbrier hotel at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., the evening of Dec. 6, sponsored by the Panhellenic of Greenbrier college.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Simpson, 144 Hedges street recently received word from their nephew, Robert M. Hale, of Elmhurst, Ill., that he has been appointed dean of Martin Junior college, Cicero, Ill. Mr. Hale, a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school, lives in Chicago with his wife and daughter.

* * *

. . . Miss Nancy Galbraith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Galbraith, 553 Arlington avenue, is planning to spend the Christmas holidays with her parents. Christmas vacation at the College of Wooster will begin the evening of December 17 and classes will resume the morning of January 3. Miss Galbraith is a freshman at the college.

* * *

Girls from E-36 range assembly at Westinghouse were entertained recently by a Christmas party at the home of Theressa Overly, 287 Buckley avenue. Twenty-two were in attendance, including Mrs. Cleo Brubaker of Shelby and Miss Dorothy Wilging. The occasion was a farewell party for Mrs. Overly, who will leave her employment soon.

* * *

. . . Pfc. Richard Schuttera, son of Mr. and Mrs John Schuttera, 610 Sunset boulevard, has returned to Camp Kilmer, N. J., after spending 19 days visiting with his family and friends.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Patricia Pugh to Carl A. Steen of Dayton is being announced by her parents, Mrs. Hasel Pugh, 23 East Second street, and Walter Pugh. The bride-elect is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and the Miami Valley Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Steen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl G. Steen of Dayton, attended Ohio State University. The wedding will be a closed ceremony on Saturday at the First Lutheran church.

Plans Made For Chapter Night Meeting

The Child Care and Training committee of the Women of the Moose met for a 6:30 dinner at the home of Mrs. Anton Schweitzer, 104 Arthur avenue.

Twenty members and five guests were present. The guests were: senior regent, Mrs. Michael Campanelli; committee nurse, Miss Betty Remy; Mrs. Andrew Schweitzer, Mrs. Hilda Scheiber and Mrs. Homer Rush.

A lighted Christmas tree and yuletide scene decorated the mantel. Leather date books were used as place cards and a grab bag was enjoyed by all.

Plans were made to help a needy family and chapter night, which will be held in January, was discussed. Contests were played and prizes were won by Mrs Albert Pittinger, Mrs Campanelli and Mrs. Kirk Ricks. Club prize was also won by Mrs Pittinger.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. H. O. Solomon, 117 Willow with Mrs. Clara Hauserman assisting.

Small budget, many gifts on your holiday list? Then make an assortment of your favorite Christmas cookies to give your friends. Anise drops, spritz cookies, pfeffernuss, date bars, applesauce cookies, blonde brownies, candied fruit bars, rolled cookies cut into Christmas shapes are among those you might include in your "personalized" cookie box.

Crescendo Club Meets At Garvers

The December meeting of the Crescendo Music Club was held at the home of Betty Jean Garver, 495 Lexington Avenue. After the routine business meeting which was conducted by the president, Jean A. Robinson, Charles Green reviewed the book, "Smattering of Ignorance" by Oscar Levant.

Of special interest were Levant's comments of and about famous personages in the music field. Marilyn Klee told the stories of the origination of many of the famous Christmas carols. Guests of the club were the High School Carolers, who presented a group of the traditional Christmas carols.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Margie Voltz, 440 Beethoven Street. The discussion topic will be "Music We Live With," and Elaine Hartley will present the notes.

NEW KIND OF CLOCK

There's a clock on the market that "says a warm good morning," not only on Christmas day but through all the cold months. It's called the Honeywell plug-in chronotherm and it automatically operates the home heating system, turning down the temperature at bedtime and raising it again in the morning. In addition to saving about 10 per cent of the oil, gas or coal bill, it gives the man of the house about 150 additional sleeping hours a year, since he does not have to get up early and tend the heating plant. The device can be installed by any householder in less than 10 minutes.

Bit and Spur Club Holds Party

The Richland County Bit and Spur club held its annual Christmas party recently at the Sons of Herman hall. A chicken dinner was served to more than 100 members and guests.

John Grabler presented a program of songs and special music. A number of dance specialties were presented by Johanna Burns, Lolita Heichel, Marilyn Duff and Kay Alexander through the courtesy of the Marguerite Speas Dance Studio.

Dr. W. J. Lower of Millersburg, gave an address on horses, horse shows and judging. A technicolor movie entitled, "The Horse America Made" was shown, and a gift excange was held later.

Out-of-town guests were from Galion, Ashland and Sandusky. Miss Joan Balinger, secretary of the White Horse ranch, Nebraska, was also present.

THURSDAY MEETING

Circle One of the First Methodist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Elmer Spring, 296 Superior street, Thursday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. This will be a Christmas party and exchange.

For the children's Christmas party, cut a rolled cookie dough into shapes of Santa Claus, Christmas trees, bells, and stars. Bake the cookies on an ungreased baking sheet in a moderate oven about ten minutes. Frost and decorate with candies and colored sugars.

Glamor In the Bag Is New

By BETTY CLARKE
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

You can please any woman with a Christmas gift of perfume unless she is allergic to it. The size won't make any difference. When it comes to the sweet smelling scents you can make the ladies happy with just one dram.

If you can't afford to spend much, there are exciting little perfume containers on the market that are inexpensive, make attractive gifts and good purse-size receptacles for the fragrance. These gadgets come in a number of sizes and metals but all serve the same purpose.

There are ball-point perfume containers that can be carried in the bag without the fear of spilling, applied in a jiffy when needed. Another cute silver container has a hinged top which flips off with a flick of the thumb. A budget-priced gold toned metal "purser" comes with a dram of perfume in any of four lovely fragrances.

Whenever funds are limited much more consideration should be given to the selection of the gift. Very often with a little thought and careful planning the most inexpensive gift on the tree can steal the show from Santa's pack of luxury items.

Succulent stuffin' for the Christmas goose is this prune-and-apple dressing. Mix together, lightly but thoroughly, three cups of enriched bread cubes, one cup of cooked apples (pared, diced, and stewed), one-half cup cooked prunes, one-half cup chopped nuts, one-fourth cup melted fat, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper. This dressing takes well to chicken, too.

No Santa Claus? Historians Say Yes!

By CLARK KINNAIRD

Yes, Virginia, and any other doubters, there was a Santa Claus.

Originally, his name was Nicholas. He was the son of a merchant named Epiphanes who lived in the town of Patara, near the port of Myra, on the shore of the Mediterranean north of Syria. Nicholas entered the church and became bishop of Myra, in the 4th century.

His good works were of a different character than most of those identified with other saints of the early Church. He was not a stern ascetic. He liked youths to be happy. Once, he saved three girls from spinsterhood and worse, by dropping three bags of gold through the window of their poor father who was unable to provide them with dowries. A girl just didn't get married in those days without a dowry. And this is but one of many legends of benefactions, particularly to youths, by the good Nicholas.

He personified the Christian injunction, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" to an unusual extent in an age when the biggest robber was king and Robin Hood was a hero because he gave back to the poor some of the loot. The fame of such a man was bound to endure and grow. By the 11th century, there was rivalry among towns for the right to possess St. Nicholas' relics, and a group of his admirers seized his remains by force in Myra and carried them in state to Bari, Italy.

As he became established in European hearts as special protector of children, travelers and merchants, it was accepted that he presented gifts to good persons while they slept. The belief led, by the 14th century, to the general custom in Holland of presenting gifts to persons of good cheer on the eve of St. Nicholas' day in the calendar of saints: December 6. The first Dutch colonists in America brought the custom to New Netherlands (New York), and there the tradition of St. Nicholas was to undergo vast change.

Two of the Thomas Nast cartoons which initiated the present concept of Santa Claus. In one (at right), showing Santa visiting soldiers in the Civil war, Nast dressed Santa in red, white and blue, and helped establish the tradition of the red coat.

In the American mind he came to resemble the good Dutch burghers. Then settlers from Scandinavia made the steeds which drew his sled reindeer, instead of the horses of the Dutch tradition.

These and other new impressions grew and became an established permanent concept through drawings of Thomas Nast, the German immigrant who was the most famous cartoonist in the United States in the 1860s and 1870s. Nast did a great deal to make Santa Claus accepted nationally for the first time.

Coincident with his adoption nationally, Santa Claus' visitations were transferred to Christmas Eve. Nast had much to do with that also.

A 20th Century historian, L. H. Robbins, wrote, "Looking back today, we see that Nast's drawings were only caricatures, their details borrowed mostly from Moore's poem. Still, he gave the world the best likeness of Santa Claus up to that time, and it was years before the spell of his pictures wore off and people began to know Santa Claus as he really is.

We know that Santa Claus is not an elf in a tight-fitting sealskin suit, but a man-size chap who wears loose scarlet pajamas with ermine trimmings."

The American concept of Santa Claus recrossed the Atlantic. He's Father Christmas in Britain. He is popular in Scandinavia. He makes the rounds in South America, almost unchanged, despite the lack of climate in December in the South with a child's belief in Santa Claus. In France, a teacher recently was sued by a father for destroying a child's faith in Santa. The father won the suit.

The poem by Moore referred to in the quotation above was, of course, "A Visit from St. Nicholas".

Kenyon 'Bar' Put Back On Tax Lists

Cincinnati U. Also Hard Hit

COLUMBUS, — (INS) — The State Board of tax appeals restored $1,294,770 worth of previously tax-exempt property to the tax duplicate yesterday, netting local governments an estimated annual $26,000.

Hardest hit among the individual property owners was Kenyon college at Gambier and the university of Cincinnati. Kenyon's $351,000 student union building was put on the tax duplicate because it contains a beer bar.

The univeristy of Cincinnati had 26 pieces of property valued at $347,890 put on the tax list because properties earned an income. All properties involved were returned to the tax duplicate on the grounds that they were not used exclusively for charitable purposes. Any appeals to gain exemption for the tax year 1948 must be filed with the board before Dec. 31, 1948.

The St. Bonaventura Church in Cincinnati, valued at $148,340, also was held taxable because it has a bar on the premises.

Other Hamilton county properties listed with evaluations were:

The Cumminsville veterans of world wars — $11,100; the Ed Gehlert Post 554 of the American Legion — $1,640; The Kopling Society of Cincinnati — $14,300; The Leland M. Barnett post 123 of the American Legion — $19,400; Friars Gym and Athletic Club — $22,900; The Fenwick Club—$129,190.

In Trumbull county, the Gar Hall at Kinsman, valued at $650 was put on the tax duplicate.

Stark county's list consisted of the K of C Home in Canton, Valued at $96,920, and the Woman's Club of Massillon, value, $7,110.

The Tuscarawas county Protestant Home at New Philadelphia, valued at $15,580, also was ruled taxable, as was the Telocvienna, Lorain Corp. — Jednota Sokol, at Lorain, valued at $5,860.

Cleveland had two properties listed. They were the Germania Turn Verein Vorwaerts, $15,670, and the Polish Falcons Education Company, worth worth $10,590.

There were three properties ruled taxable in Wayne county: The K of P Hall at Shreve village — $1,820; The Santa Maria home at Wooster — $5,340, and the Wooster Masonic Temple — $31,200.

The single listing for Madison county was the Federation of Women's Clubs in London, valued at $4,730.

Judges Order Conservancy Unit

DEFIANCE —(UP)—A special conservancy court, in an 8-to-7 vote yesterday ordered creation of a 15-county Maumee watershed conservancy district.

The court decision ruled that establishment of the district is a public necessity in order to promote public health, safety and welfare. The court rejected petitions filed by prosecutors of eight counties asking that their counties be omitted from the district.

The special court was made up of common pleas judges from each of the counties to be included in the district.

The order ended a controversy that had been waged in the Maumee river watershed area for several years. Hearings on the proposed district had been underway here since Nov. 8.

Claims Truman Fighting Spy Hunt To Cover Up For Roosevelt Error

WASHINGTON—With President Truman's reiteration of his old cry of "red herring," we resume where we left off. For reasons plain to anyone who has followed the career of the committee on un-American activities, the President is still determined to thwart the committee and to disparage its actual revelations of treason and similar treachery in the state, war, navy and commerce departments under the Roosevelt regime. Truman is the heir to the Roosevelt political estate, much of which, of course, has been debased by historical disclosures since the end of the shooting war.

He obviously still thinks it would be bad politics to admit or let anyone else prove that Roosevelt did open the doors to agents of the Kremlin.

Inasmuch as the penetration of the state department by the communists took place during Roosevelt's reign, and early in his reign at that, Mr. Truman could very gracefully join the committee on un-American activities in housing the traitors and spies and all their accomplices. After all, they aren't his traitors and spies.

Roosevelt let them in and we don't have to prove what his reasons were. It is enough to know that they got in during his presidency and to point to proof in the records of the old Dies committee that they were there with his knowledge.

Whatever Truman's motives are, he certainly is a primitive American of the Spelvin type and such treachery is to him as evil as to any other naive, corn-fed, 100 per center from the first world war.

None of Truman's friends with access to the eye and ear of the public has ever tried to explain why, then, he fights so hard to prevent the denunciation of traitors by the House committee.

The explanation, therefore, must be found by deduction, which brings us to the conclusion that Truman hates them as much as any other loyalist but will not let the republicans derive any political benefit from exposure of the Democratic party's crimes, nor even let them earn the credit for eradicating a national danger.

Truman runs no risk in sneering at the secrets of the pumpkin and in using the department of justice to clutter the committee's work and frustrate justice. He is in for four years, late in his life, and beyond that has no ambition.

The Department of Justice is used to obstruct justice against deserving Democrats and to hound and beat opponents of the regime as a matter of common political routine. In this case, the traitors and their associates are not deserving Democrats in the sense that Philip Murray is. But their conviction would prove that Roosevelt did open the doors to enemies while Herbert Hoover and Charles Lindbergh were pilloried and persecuted by some of those very traitors.

It will be a bitter frustration, after all this rooting and digging and tearing away on hot, confusing trails, to see the varmints get away.

Even today, though the public is at last convinced that Roosevelt did let the communists in, Truman, with his sprightly, but insipid, cry of "red herring," is more popular than the committee itself.

Bierly Heads Red Cross Roll Call

County Chapter Picks Chairman

Glenn L. Bierly is the newly-appointed campaign chairman for the 1949 roll call of the Richland county chapter of the Red Cross.

Announcement of Bierly as choice for the 1949 campaign, which will be held in March, was made yesterday afternoon at the monthly board meeting of the Red Cross by Allen Bond, chairman of the campaign planning committee.

Bierly is president and treasurer of the Mansfield Brass Foundry, Inc. A veteran of World War I, he is a past commander of McVey Post, American Legion, and a former commander of the Mansfield unit of the Ohio State Guard. He is a former city councilman.

BERKEY PRESIDES

Frank Berkey, vice chairman of the chapter, presided at the meeting yesterday in the absence of Frank Elias, chairman.

L. L. Mishey, chairman of the disaster preparedness committee, reported on the recent institute, during which completed plans were made in preparation for any disaster that might strike this area.

GLENN L. BIERLY

Mrs. Stewart Weaver, chairman of the blood donor committee, told board members the national blood donor mobile unit would be here from Columbus on Jan. 17 and 18. At that time, Mrs. Weaver said, 280 donors will be needed.

Fred Tracy, who was chairman of a committee to purchase a projector for the chapter, reported it was on hand and ready for use.

It also was reported the materials authorized at the November meeting have been purchased for the making of garments for veteran's hospital. These garments will include men's and women's pajamas, bed jackets for women, fracture pillow covers and other necessary items. They are being made now by women of the First Presbyterian church.

Court of Honor Set Tomorrow

A court of honor for Boy Scouts of the Johnny Appleseed area will be held tomorrow at 7:45 p. m. at the Elks lodge room.

W. W. Enlow, chairman of the area advancement committee, will advance three Scouts to Eagle rank, six to Life rank, and nine to the rank of Star Scouts. He will present two Scouts with explorer awards.

LOTS TO EAT—Wearing their shiny badges and big grins, members of Mansfield's Schoolboy Patrol stop eating turkey while the cameraman takes their picture. More than 200 patrol members were dined last night in the John Simpson cafeteria.

Opens Store Friday

Sternbaum Offers Modern Market

Opening of a second Sternbaum Complete food mart in Mansfield has been set for 8 a. m. Friday. The grand opening of the mart at 865 Lexington avenue, at Cook road, will be featured by "specials," food demonstrations and shows and sample presentations, said the owner, Carl Sternbaum.

He said the new brick and tile building cost $60,000 and houses $50,000 worth of equipment. It is 60 by 130 feet and has the first electric-eye doors in this area, which spring open automatically when the electric eye-beam is broken by someone at the door.

The store will have 35 employes. Hours will be 8 a. m. to 12 midnight, except Sundays when the hours will be from 8 a. m. to 10 p. m. Sternbaum stores are open every day of the year except Christmas.

With the opening of this store, there are now three Sternbaum markets — the third is in Fremont — which give a conbined sales area of 25,000 square feet.

The new store is scientifically constructed, including the lighting, and heating system, and contains the latest in refrigeration and other types of equipment.

Club Host At Party

Seventy-five boys at Friendly House, ranging in age from nine to 15, are looking forward to Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, when they will be the guests of the Junior Optimist club at the Richland Recreation Center.

The Christmas party is being sponsored by the Senior Optimist club of Mansfield. Members have arranged a dinner at 5:30 p. m. at the Center and an extensive Yule program to follow.

With the 40 boys of the Optimist club acting as hosts, the Friendly House boys will share in gifts and a program to include singing by a barbershop quartet, accordion solos, blackface act by C. J. Kalbleisch and Robert Kaser; pantomime by Eugene Gump, and music of a hillybilly band.

There also will be a brief talk by Maurice W. Taylor, executive secretary of the YMCA and plenty of informal fun during the evening.

Thomas Shacher is general chairman, assisted by Rev. John G. Gensel, Ralph Stevens, George Rogers, Harvey Anderson, John Swank, Donald Swallen and Frank Goldsmith.

200 Boy Patrolmen Dine On 25 Turkeys

By SHELDON BINN

Midst much talk and laughter, more than 200 members of the junior edition of Mansfield's Schoolboy Patrol consumed great quantities of turkey and all the trimmings at the annual Christmas dinner given in their honor last night.

Twenty-five turkeys, weighing a total of 250 pounds went the way of all turkey flesh, along with cranberry sauce, peas, cake, ice cream and milk.

The banquet, held in the John Simpson junior high school auditorium, was attended by members of the Mansfield police force, Richland county deputy sheriffs, state highway patrolmen, and a member of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Gratifying to all present was the first public appearance since last September of Traffic Commissioner Frend C. Boals, who was stricken at that time with a heart attack.

He congratulated all the boys and girls of the patrol and promised that he would "be back on the job shortly after the first of the year."

Floyd Dent, Boy Scout executive, was master of ceremonies at a short speechmaking period following the dinner.

Dent gave Acting Traffic Commissioner Robert Garver a verbal pat on the back for arranging the big feast.

PRAISES PATROL

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn told the boys and girls that the city is proud of them and that "Mansfield is getting a good reputation throughout the state for its traffic safety program."

Carl Stander, president of the Richland County Auto club, thanked the Schooiboy Patrol for its fine job during the past 19 years and gave it credit for "reducing the number of accidents in the city."

Others introduced included Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison; Jack Berger, secretary of the Richland County Auto club; Robert Pumphrey, FBI agent; Cpl. J. L. Bishop, of the local state highway patrol post; Charles Vibberts, safety supervisor of the state automobile association, and Patrolman Earl Korn, president of the Police Recreation committee, that made the banquet possible.

After the dinner, the boys and girls were treated to a magic show by Ronald Boffenmyer, who kept them laughing during the whole period.

The John Simpson orchestra provided dinner music.

The decorating for the banquet was done by members of the West Fifth Street Mothers' club.

CORRECTION

The Christmas party sponsored by Venus lodge. F. & A. M., will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m., in the Masonic Temple ballroom, instead of tonight, as reported yesterday.

Death Takes Draftsman

John D. Shufflebarger, 73, of 97½ South Main street, died Tuesday evening at General hospital after an illness of two weeks.

Born in Graham, Va., May 23, 1875, Mr. Shufflebarger came to Mansfield 12 years ago. At the time of his death he was employed at the Art Rattan company where he had been a draftsman-engineer for the past 28 years.

He was a member of the Baptist church in Norfolk, Va., and the Mansfield-Shelby Foremen's club.

Surviving are his wife, Nora; five daughters, Mrs. Bevington Leonard and Miss Helen Shufflebarger of Mansfield; Mrs. Perry Bonham, Mrs. Mary Chase and Mrs. Beverly N. Rosecran of California; one son, Jack jr., of California; and a stepson, Edgar Sarver of Ashland. One brother, Edgar Shufflebarger of Columbus, and five grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Geiger funeral home Friday at 2 p. m., with Rev. David N. Roller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, officiating. Burial will be in Mansfield Memorial Park. Friends may call at the funeral home until time of services.

Group Elects Burkhart

James Burkhart, of Jim Burkhart and Sons, was re-elected to his second term as secretary-treasurer of the Concrete Masonry Manufacturers association of North Central Ohio at the annual meeting last night in Marion.

Others officers elected included Wayne Hodges, of the H. and H. Coal company of Shelby, president; and C. L. Baldauf, of Baldauf and Schlietz, Inc. of Marion, vice president.

The business meeting was preceded by a chicken dinner.

The new officers will be installed at a meeting at the shelby Inn Jan. 11.

Rites Set For Soldier

Re-burial services for Pfc. Harold D. Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bowman of Lucas, will be conducted by Rev. Ben F. Hagelbarger, pastor of the First Christian church, at the Wappner funeral home at 3 p. m. Friday. McVey Post, American Legion will be in charge, of military services at the grave in IOOF cemetery, Lucas.

Pfc. Bowman was killed in action in Germany April 5, 1945. He was 20 at the time of his death.

He was born in Weller township Oct. 18, 1925, and had spent his entire life in this vicinity.

He is survived by his parents; two brothers, Gerald of Akron and Ralph of Lucas, and a sister, Mrs. Harold Frontz of Mansfield.

The body will arrive at the funeral home Thursday evening where friends may call until time of services.

Balyeat Infant Dies In Hospital

Sheila Ann Balyeat, seven-day-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Balyeat, 624 Park avenue east, died yesterday at General hospital.

Besides the parents, she is survived by her paternal grandparents, Milton C. Balyeat and Mrs. Helen Garrison, both of Mansfield; and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spar of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Graveside services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Friday at Mansfield Memorial park with Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner officiating. Friends may call at the Wolford funeral home after 6 p. m. Thursday.

Flames Hit Top Of Mill

Damage Placed At $5,000

An automatic sprinkler system was credited today with saving $50,000 worth of stored grain and feed from destruction by fire in the Honegger-Hanley Mill, rear of 276 North Mulberry street, yesterday afternoon.

J. O. Hanley, vice-president of the mill, said $500 fire damage and between $4,000 and $5,000 water damage was caused when friction set a fan belt on fire at the top of the mill. Firemen from Central and No. 2 stations answered the call.

Hanley said the $50,000, worth of grain included 25,000 bushels of corn, 5,000 bushels of oats and 150,000 tons of bulk feeds. He said employes of the mill worked throughout the night salvaging grain.

Firemen said the fire was under control within 10 minutes after they arrived. The automatic sprinkler system in the top of the mill was set off by the blaze, seconds after it started.

GO TO TIRE PLANT

At 1:30 p. m. Central, No. 2 and No. 4 stations went to the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company where a motor had burned out in a machine used for mixing fabric and rubber. Firemen said damage was confined to the machine.

Two "no damage" fires, including an erroneous report of a gasoline truck upsetting were reported to firemen shortly after 9 p. m. At 9:25 p. m. No. 5 station men went to 569 Cook road where a leak had occurred in an oil line leading to a manhole. There was no fire, firemen said.

At 9:43 p. m. a report that a gasoline truck had upset and was burning at Bowman and Harker streets brought firemen from Central and No. 2 stations who found only a warning torch pot upset on the pavement.

County OKs Trip Funds

An estimated expense account of $150 has been authorized by the county commissioners for them and their clerk to attend the annual convention of the state association, a journal entry showed today.

They will present an itemized account of the expenses incurred in attending the convention. One of the commissioners, C. L. Shoup, did not attend the convention. The convention was held last Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Commissioners also authorized an expense account of an estimated amount between $50 and $60 for Howard Wenning, who attended annual convention of the county clerks association in Columbus. That meeting was held Dec. 7, 8 and 9.

Also authorized was a transfer of $500 from the contingencies fund to the appropriation marked for contract ditches.

Fraternity Initiates 5

Five new members of Alpha Alpha Iota chapter, Phi Sigma Chi, received the initiation ritual last night at the fraternity's first formal initiation.

New members are Samuel Carvour, William Lichtle, Charles Sweet, Edward Homan and Paul Moore.

Initiating officers were Jack Davis, Jim Hawk and Pat Maline, presiding officers of the chapter. A venison dinner, provided by Jack Yoha, toastmaster, followed the initiation.

Davis, president of the chapter, said the annual election of the fraternity would be held in January and the group's new civic project would be announced at that time.

Scene of the initiation and dinner was the fraternity clubrooms at 52½ North Main street. Thirty-five members were present, including guests from the Newark and Granville chapters.

Mrs. McCrory Dies At 87

Mrs. Fannie Elizabeth McCrory, 87, mother of Carl McCrory of 218 West Dickson avenue, died early this morning at the home of her son, following a long illness.

Mrs. McCrory was the widow of John McCrory, Civil War veteran and former county engineer of Knox county.

She was born at Marietta, Aug. 18, 1861, and had lived in Mansfield for the past 20 years, coming here from Fredericktown.

She was a member of the Methodist church of Fredericktown and of the Women's Relief Corps.

In addition to her son, Carl, she is survived by two grandchildren, Mrs. Elizabeth Bulyear and Mrs. Helen Etswiler, both of Mansfield, and two great grandchildren.

Rev. J. Frank Stewart, pastor of the Central Methodist church, will conduct private funeral services at the Jones Memorial at 2 p. m. Friday. Burial will be in Fredericktown.

Friends may call at the funeral home until time of services.

PROBE AUTO DEALERS

WASHINGTON, — (UP) — House investigators are checking on one auto dealer who allegedly used cutomers' deposits to set up a profitable building loan business, it was learned today.

Ritchie Gets His Man After Six Months—At a Funeral

Paul Ritchie, municipal court clerk, got his man — but he had to go to a funeral to do it!

And he got the Mansfielder who jumped bond after being tipped off to his whereabouts by an obituary in The News-Journal.

Ritchie explained the affair this way. In June, 1948 the individual was found guilty and fined $5 and costs ($11.30) in municipal court on an intoxication charge.

He put up a recognizance bond, without a countersigner, promising to pay the fine in about a week. Instead, he left town.

Ritchie kept his eye out for him, but couldn't locate him. Then early this week, he read a N-J obituary which listed him as a relative of the deceased, and stated that he would attend the funeral.

So yesterday, Ritchie took Patrolman Robert Pittenger, dressed in plainclothes and went to the funeral. He waited outside in a parked car during the funeral services. When the funeral procession started for the cemetery, Ritchie got into the line of cars and followed his man.

He waited at the cemetery, and followed the car in which the man was riding as it returned to the funeral home after the burial. And as the man stepped out of the car, Ritchie arrested him.

And all that chasing cost the man an extra $2.25 as the total of fine and costs was upped from $11.30 to $13.55.

Galion Worker Hurt In Fall

GALION — John Wisler, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wisler of Sherman street, suffered a severe cut and bruise on the back of his head when he fell about eight feet from a ladder while working at the Perfection Steel Body company here, at 3:45 p. m. Tuesday. He was treated at the City hospital.

Workmen said they thought he lost his balance and grabbed 440-volt rail. It was reported he fell to the floor as another workman tried to help him. He was injured from the fall rather than from the voltage, witnesses thought. Wisler is employed in the hoist department at the plant.

Construction, Sale of New Homes Slump

Postwar Boom Now Declining

Higher-Priced Units Worst Hit

By UNITED PRESS

Construction and sales of new homes are falling off in many cities throughout the nation, and some housing experts predict a transition to a buyers' market, a survey showed today.

Homes costing more than $10,000 are the hardest hit, but the market in some cities has slumped even on lower-priced houses.

Price cutting was reported in some cities as a remedy for the thousands of high-priced homes standing empty for lack of buyers.

In general, credit restrictions and the high cost of living essentials were blamed for the downward trend inthe home market.

Cities surveyed included Seattle, Phoenix, Sacramento, Raleigh, Richmond, Norfolk, Columbus, San Diego, Detroit, Buffalo, Denver, Kansas City, Pittsburgh, Hartford, San Francisco, Washington, Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Minneapolis, Omaha, Indianapolis, Des Moines, St. Louis, Milwaukee, and Oklahoma city.

Most of the cities reported declines in new construction or sales, or both. The slumps occurred overwhelmingly in the higher-priced brackets, and to a lesser degree in lower-priced homes.

SOME MARKETS STEADY

A few cities reported a steady market, or even increases, while some said business continued good in the lower-priced field. However, housing spokesmen in city after city said buyers were becoming more particular, and frequently refuse to buy homes in the belief that prices will drop.

The experts said the first postwar housing boom has passed, and people no longer are desperate for new homes.

CHAMPION TWIRLER — Joy Stewart, one of the stars of the "Best Is Yet To Come" show which will be in Mansfield Tuesday night, has been in 35 movies. They include "Rhapsody In Blue," "It's In the Bag," and "Two Smart People." She has led the Pasadena Rose Bowl parade for the past two years. The Jaycee-sponsored show will be presented in the Johnny Appleseed auditorium.

Jaycee Show Tuesday to Help Finance Ice Skating Project

Charlie Fisk's band and an array of top vaudeville acts will come to Mansfield for two shows next Tuesday night to help boost the Junior Chamber of Commerce ice skating project fund.

Jaycee officials said all tickets for the 7 p. m., show in Johnny Appleseed auditorium have been sold. However, there are still tickets for the 9:30 p. m., performance. Ticket Chairman Richard Sowash said.

Tickets are on sale at Richman's, Tawse's, City News, and Smart's Music store

Funds from the shows will be used to build ice skating ponds at the county Fairground and other convenient spots throughout the city for Mansfield youngsters and adults, too.

Mansfield's contribution to the show will be Miss Beverly Wentz, popular soprano, who will appear as guest star.

Fisk's band has appeared in theaters, hotels, and night clubs from coast to coast. With the band are such popular performers as Pat Moran, comedian, who frequently doubles for Hollywood stars in dangerous parts in the movies.

He has "subbed" for Jack Benny in "Buck Benny Rides Again," played three times in "Artists and Models," and even handled a dangerous part for the late John Barrymore in one of his movies.

Honor First Fliers

OBERLIN, (AP) Oberlin college, which received a $300,000 bequest from Orville Wright after his death last January, opened an exhibition yesterday in the Wilbur and Orville Wright laboratory of physics to commemorate the brothers' flight at Kitty Hawk, N. C., Dec 17, 1903.

Give Tests Friday

The last meeting of the year of the Plumbing Examining board will be held Friday at 7 p. m., at the health department on the third floor of the city building.

The examination will be for those applying for journeyman and master plumbers classification.

All licensed journeymen and master plumbers were requested to renew their license certificates before the end of the year.

The Plumbing Examining board is composed of Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner; Howard D. Myers, plumbing inspector and secretary of the board, Russell Hall, representing the journeymen, and Wade Stanfield, representing the master plumbers.

'Y' Given New Pump

The YMCA today had a new circulating pump for its swimming pool—a gift of the Barnes Manufacturing company.

The new pump which replaces a much smaller worn-out pump, can circulate 60 gallons of water per minute.

Maurice W. Taylor, general secretary of the YMCA, in announcing receipt of the gift, said the pump can circulate the water in the pool every six hours. The pump will improve the operation of the pool's circulation by 75 per cent, Taylor said.

Also announced was a gift of $100, made available by the 40 et 8 club of McVey Post, American Legion. Taylor said the money would be used to buy a new tool grinder for the craft shop and also a number of hand tools.

Tornadoes may travel, as a unit, at speeds up to 60 miles per hour.

Amvets to Take Minstrels To Cleveland In January

Mansfield Amvets, who gave their third successful performance of the 1948 minstrels Monday night, will take the show to Cleveland for two performances at the Crile Veterans' hospital on a Sunday in January

The minstrels were presented in Cleveland and a number of cities and villages in the Mansfield area last winter.

More than 2,600 persons saw the minstrels here in performances Dec. 1, 2 and 13. Six hundred attended the show Monday night.

Louis Doerr, general chairman for the show, said the minstrels will be presented annually in Mansfield.

Shows at Crile hospital will be given in the general theater and the neuropsychiatric ward, Doerr said. Hospital officials asked for a return engagement after last year's show proved popular with the veteran patients

Mansfield Cagers Take Third Triumphs

Cuff Stuff

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

BACK AT THE DESK after a short sojourn on the sunny shores at Miami Beach. . . . Escaped from the sporting world except for one day. . . . Then succumbed to the lure of the golf links and trailed the Frank Stranahan-Sam Snead-Skip Alexander trio in the Miami Open. . . . That's the day Frankie got his second 66. . . . The rest of the time just loafed . . . Stuff, of course, piled up on the desk. . . . Sorting through mail, copy, clippings, sports pages, etc., is a chore. . . . But there's always some interesting data. . . . So cleaning up things. . . . Lima Central, which plays Senior high in the Lima basketball carnival over the holidays, has won two straight. . . . The Central team set some kind of a record in its first game. . . . The Dragons dumped Dayton Kiser, 62 to 35, making 28 of 37 foul shots. . . .

Bulletin

CHICAGO —(AP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers today traded Harold (Pete) Reiser to the Boston Braves for Outfielder Myron (Mike) McCormick and another player to be named at a later date.

Four players scored over 12 points. . . . Bobby Baker, the former Tyger cage great, is now a sophomore member of the Heidelberg Student Prince basketball squad. . . . Ed Thomas, 1947 Madison flanker, received a letter as a member of the 1948 Ohio Wesleyan freshman football team. . . . Seventy-two candidates turned out for the 1948-49 Massillon Washington high school basketball team.

HERE'S AN INTERESTING article by Arch Ward, the Chicago Tribune sports editor. "The resignation of Harry Stuhldreher as head football coach at the University of Wisconsin is a development that could have occurred under the same circumstance at few other universities in the United States. . . . The purpose of this observation is not to weigh the merits of Stuhldreher as a coach. . . . Rather it is an indictment of a system which permits a minority group of undergraduates to make untenable the position of an employe who has given loyal and efficient service to his university for more than three generations of students. . . . Most coaches suffer mainly from alumni criticism. . . . At Wisconsin the gridiron leader catches it both from old grads and undergrads. . . . Stuhldreher may not be the greatest coach Wisconsin can employ. . . . He certainly isn't the worst. . . . This department doubts that any successor will fare better, given the same kind of material, until the conditions that prompted the uprising against Stuhldreher are corrected. . . . Now that he need worry only about the affairs of the athletic director's office, this bureau hopes Stuhldreher will work toward an improvement of Wisconsin's public relations. . . . "

Demyan Back In Athletics

Ed Demyan, rugged junior athlete, has been reinstated to Mansfield Senior high school sport teams, Director of Athletics Augie Morningstar announced today.

He will be permitted to join the Tyger basketball squad after Jan 1, Morningstar said. Demyan, a letterman in football and basketball last year, was removed from the 1948 Senior high school grid team for missing the football preview without permission.

At that time Morningstar announced that Demyan would be ineligible for sports during the 1948-49 season. However Morningstar said today, "Demyan has fulfilled all scholastic requirements and his attitude has been wonderful in school. We decided to reinstate him at a staff meeting of all coaches."

Tygers Rap Columbian; Jim Gets 24

By FRED THARP

Blowing hot, then cold, the Mansfield Senior high hoopsters swept over a weak Tiffin Columbian combine last night for their third consecutive triumph, 61 to 35.

A torrid first half enabled Vern Hoffman's men of basketball to run up their highest point total of the season. The Tygers previously had scored 49 points apiece against Elyria and Cleveland Colinwood. In the second period when the Bengals tallied 21 points, another seasonal high, Hoffman used 12 men.

MUCH EXPERIMENTING

The Tyger mentor experimented with many different combinations after assuming the early advantage. He used 13 men in all with eight of them scoring. The individual honors again went to slender Jimmy Anderson. The junior marksman splintered the hoops for 24 points, in little more than half a game. He played only ten minutes of the first half, netting 13 tallies.

Just as the Tygers were hot in rolling up a 39 to 17 margin at the midway intermission, they were off in the last 16 minutes. The ball handling and shooting both plunged down as the Bengals made only 10 of 37 attempts from the court. In the first two quarters, the shooting mark was 15 of 35.

Tiffin did not have the height or ability to trouble the Tygers too much. The Columbian lads did manage to stay in the game for the first few moments, however.

Big Ed Schmitt sent Senior high to a three-point lead and Howie Tipper, who started for the first time, connected on a one-hander from the side. Ted Spidel broke the ice for Tiffin but Anderson came through with a one-hander, Spidel hit a free throw and Schmitt gave the Tygers a 9-to-3 advantage with a rebound connection.

LEAD IS SLICED

Schundutz and Joe Smith hit from in close to pare the Bengal margin to two points but the Tygers counted eight straight markers to go ahead for keeps. In that string, Anderson had a bunny shot and a gratis toss. Noro Shibinski batted in a rebound. Paul Ferguson sent home a gratis throw and A. C. Jenkins swished in a one-hander.

The Bengals were in front at the intermission points, 18 to 8, 39 to 17, and 54 to 29.

Although neither team was overly rough, the game at times resembled a constant march to the "keyhole" for foul attempts. Tooters Eddie Finnegan and John Mickley blew their whistles 47 times for rules infractions but only Schimdutz was ejected. The Tygers made 13 of 26 but Tiffin missed on 17 of 26 foul tosses.

Shibinski and Burke Bero of the visitors trailed in the scoring column with 11 apiece.

SOPHS TRIUMPH

Coach Fred Staub's Senior high sophomores had little trouble getting their fourth straight in the prelim. The Tyger Cubs won 36 to 19 after leading by quarters, 11 to 5, 22 to 11, and 26 to 14. Gene Fidler was the top point producer with six field goals and one free throw for a 13 total.

Both Tyger teams play at Columbus Bexley Friday night.

Marion Harding Defeats Shelby Cagers, 36 to 29

SHELBY—Shelby's inability to click in all departments gave Marion Harding a 36-to-29 victory here last night.

Using a slow, deliberate offensive the Marion quintet stymied the attempts of the Whippet basketeers. Marion led by periods, 14 to 6, 19 to 16, and 25 to 23.

Jack Daum was the big gun for the Hardings, scoring 17 of his team's 39 points.

Shelby just couldn't seem to get their passes clicking and appeared slow and ragged in comparison to the great game it played against Bucyrus last week. Stan Cronenwett managed to snare 12 points for the Whippets to take honors in that department.

Gillman Doped For Cincy Job

CINCINNATI — (AP) — University of Cincinnati officials aren't talking but Sid Gillman is doped to be on his way back to Ohio to become head football coach at U. C.

Gillman, who has seen coaching service — either as an assistant or head coach — at Ohio State, Denison and Miami, now is line mentor at the U. S. Military Academy.

The Cincinnati Enquirer said flatly today that the University of Cincinnati faculty committee on athletics has approved Gillman as successor to Ray Nolting. The appointment will have to be approved, however, by the U. C. board of directors.

Durocher Case Decision Delayed

CHICAGO — (AP) — Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler has reserved until January decision on the "Freddy Fitzsimmons tampering case" involving Leo Durocher and the New York Giants.

All parties concerned refused to talk about the matter. Chandler has given no indication what penalties — if any — he may hand out.

2 Teams Tie For Lead In Church Loop

First Methodist and St. Matthew's share the lead today in the YMCA Senior Church basketball league.

Both won their second straight games last night on the "Y" court. The Methodists came from behind in the fourth quarter to nip Park Avenue Baptist, 30 to 28 while St. Matthew's blasted First Christian, 44 to 27. It was the first defeat for the Baptists.

In the other game, Lucas Lutheran swamped Evangelical UB, 41 to 14.

Bob Meeker of St. Matthew's had 19 points while John Crouse made 16 for the Methodists.

Rams Notch Third Upset In Defeating Lexington

By CHARLEY STINE

An old, old story was repeated at Madison high school last night as the host Rams marked up upset No. 3 in a 41-38 thriller with Lexington.

Pre-game dope called for a close game but gave Lexington a slight edge by virtue of seven previous victories in eight starts. Madison, however, spilled dope all over the gym floor in keeping its record unblemished. Now it will be difficult to see them as underdogs against anybody.

Led by Dick Dill and Dick Cline, Lexington almost got its coveted victory with a third quarter rally. After trailing 6-5 at the quarter and 16-13 at the half, the Minutemen outscored the Rams, 13-6, in that period but faltered in the closing minutes.

ALL FANS SHOUT

The first few minutes of the fourth quarter had the overflow crowd standing and shouting as one. Madison surged back early in the period to tie at 28-28 and from there on the lead changed hands seven times before the Rams could keep it.

Ed Chelski was in the hero's role as far as the winning points were concerned. With Madison trailing 28-24, he connected on two from far out and made good a foul to put the Rams ahead by one point. From there it went like this with teams alternating points: Tom Tupps a layup for Lexington, Distl from the corner, Cline from the key, Distl on a rebound, Tupps on two free throws, and Brightbill a hook shot from the foul circle to give Madison the lead, 35-34.

Coolness in the clutch paid dividends. The Rams played deliberate ball and tallied three more buckets while Lexington was getting two. They led 41-36 until the final seconds.

ONLY FOUR TALLY

Only four men scored for Lexington as Cline and Tupps led the way with 14 points each. Brightbill was high point man for the second time for Madison has he dropped in six field goals for 12 points. Chelski knocked in 11 and Joe Distl 10.

The Madison reserves lost their third straight contest, bowing 29-10.

Madison will be host to Akron South Friday night.

Citation Through For Three Months

SAN BRUNO, Calif. — (UP) — Citation, the wonder-horse of the age, was through with the racing wars today for at least three months.

A "hot-spot" — which is an inflamed swelling caused by a strain or blow — on the left foreleg forced the three-year-old Calumet comet out of training for the first time in his career. The injury, Trainer Jimmy Jones said, is not serious.

Offer Six Sports

MIAMI, Fla.—While other major bowls offer football as their attraction, the Orange Bowl Festival this winter will have six sports on its program. They are football, basketball, boxing, tennis, sailing races and motorboat races.

Louis Regards 6 Fighters Worthy Title Opponents

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—Joe Louis put his official sanction today on a round-robin tournament to pick a challenger for his heavyweight title.

Joe listed six names. Lee Savold Billy Conn, Gus Lesnevich, Bruce Woodcock Ezard Charles and Jersey Joe Walcott

Then he said the round-robin shouldn't have more than four contenders He was inclined to drop Lesnevich and Woodcock.

It was the first time since he knocked out Walcott in the 11th round of their second bout last June that he mentioned Jersey Joe as a potential challenger for a third time.

At Camden, N. J., Walcott said he felt he was still the No. 1 challenger for Louis' title.

"I feel I won one and lost one and should have another shot at the title," he said "I'm ready to meet anyone who thinks he can knock me from the No 1 spot"

Louis toyed with Arturo Godoy in a six-round exhibition bout at Convention Hall last night

Harry Markson, boxing director for the 20th Century Sporting club, was in town for the bout and said that Louis definitely will put his title on the line in New York next June, probably in Yankee stadium

Cubs and Phillies In 4-Way Trade

CHICAGO —(AP)— Baseball personalities, big and small, headed for their respective homes today after the annual winter meetings.

The Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phils, busiest traders in the National league, worked out a four-player deal which sent first baseman Eddie Waitkus and pitcher Hank Borowy to the Phils in exchange for pitchers Emil (Dutch) Leonard and Walter (Mona) Dubiel.

Mitsch's Five Can Take Lead

Frankie Mitsch's Corner Store boys are expected to take over undisputed possession of first place in the National "B" league tonight at Senior high school gym.

Mitsch's has won its only three games to date—one in the league—and must be heavily favored over Home Materials which has also won its only loop start The two teams will meet in the 9 p m finale

Four Square Gospel and the Independents will open the session at 7 p. m with AVC playing Au Construction at 8 The Salesmen have the night off

Extend Court Tourney Date

Johnny Fike, athletic director of the YMCA, today announced that the date for the entry into the 'Y' junior independent tournamen had been extended to Dec. 22

Fike said that the deadline was extended because of the slowness of several teams to enter.

Only two clubs, the Pushovers and an unsponsored group, have entered thus far.

Any team with players who are not 16 by Jan 1 may enter. Players do not have to 'Y' members.

Savannah High Cagers Defeat New Londoners

NEW LONDON — Savannah high school handed the New London basketeers their first defeat in two games here last night, 53 to 43.

Savannah led by quarters, 14 to 12, 21 to 15 and 34 to 30. Carl Lindsay had 20 points for the winners while Dave White led New London with 16. New London won the preliminary, 29 to 24.

CHEERY GREETING!

Warmest salutation of the season—that friendly gift of mellow Calvert Reserve!
CALVERT RESERVE Blended Whiskey—86 8 Proof—65% Grain Neutral Spirits. Calvert Distillers Corp., New York City

"Where's it come from, huh, Mister?"

"Up outa the ground, Mister?"

"Is it a oil well?"

"Whoa, Sonny, one at a time! I wish it did come right up from a well down there in the ground—it'd sure save a lot of trouble, and cost your Daddy less money! No, it comes here in great big trucks."

"Red ones?"

"Yep, real bright red ones. It came out of the ground at first, though, way down in Texas, or Oklahoma . . ."

"Where cowboys live?"

"That's right. The oil companies hunt and hunt for it, and dig holes way down deep in the ground to get it It's just black stuff then, and sometimes gooey, and it's called crude oil. They send it through long pipes—some of them big enough for you to crawl through—all the way here to Ohio."

"That's where I live."

"Yessir! Some of this crude oil comes on boats, too. Powerful boats push strings of barges up the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers."

"I can say Mississippi. Listen... Mississippi. That's a funny word. What happens then?"

"Well, the oil comes into big places called refineries. They're all full of pipes, and valves and machinery. That's where they make the black crude oil into gasoline and oil for your Daddy's car, and fuel oil that keeps your house warm all winter and lots of other things. And then the big trucks . . ."

"... the red ones?"

"Yep, the red ones. They bring it here to us dealers, and we put it in your Daddy's car like I'm doing now."

"Gee, that's a lotta stuff they do."

"Sure is. You want to be in the oil business when you grow up?"

"Naw—I'm gonna be a shortstop!"

The better we live, the more oil we need... and, to make sure we get it here in Ohio, Sohio is putting new money to work in record amounts.

Since 1942, Sohio has invested $140 million in new and improved facilities, including $33 million used in the finding of new underground crude oil reserves. So we are able to supply the people of Ohio today with more gasoline and more fuel oil than ever before in our history.

Yet to meet your increasing demands, Sohio is now investing another $100 million in a three-year program of adding more facilities for exploration, drilling, production, transportation, refining and delivery in Ohio of gasoline and oil. For a medium-sized company selling mainly in a single state, this is a huge investment.

Our earnings are not enough to pay for all this; we have had to borrow more money, and have had to sell additional stock to provide the additional funds needed.
